Public Service Commission, Bengal.

NOTICE.

WITH reference to the Bengal Civil Service (Judicial) Recruitment Rules, 1941, it is hereby notified that appointments to the Service will be made during the current year. In view of appointments already made and in accordance with the Bengal Communal Ratio Rules, 5 of the appointments will be reserved for Muslims, 2 for members of Scheduled Castes and 3 for non-Muslims, provided that suitable candidates from these communities are available.

2. As the quota fixed for Assam has already been filled there will be no recruitment of any candidate from Assam to any of these 10 posts.

3. A candidate should be under 27 years of age on the 1st January 1944 and also be either a graduate in Law of some statutory university or a Barrister or a member of the Factulty of Advocates in Scotland or an Advocate or an Attorney on the rolls of the High Court in Calcutta.

4. Persons who may wish to apply should submit their applications in the prescribed form, copies of which and of the Bengal Civil Service (Judicial) Recruitment Rules, 1941, may be obtained from the Secretary, Public Service Commission, Bengal, Secretariat Building, Darjeeling personally or on sending an addressed envelope with a nine pies stamp. The applications must not be addressed to the Secretary by name and should reach him, complete with necessary certificates, treasury chalan (for Rs. 10), etc., not later than the 16th May 1944.

5. A number of candidates considered prima facie suitable will be called upon to appear before a Medical Board for a certificate of their fitness for Government Service in Form A of Schedule IV of the Bengal Provincial Services Recruitment Rules; an order to appear before the Medical Board must not, however, be understood to mean that the candidate, if found fit, will necessarily receive an appointment as the number of candidates who will be summoned for medical examination will be in excess of the total number of vacancies, and the question of his appointment will depend upon the results of the medical examination taken as a whole; intending candidates are advised before they apply for recruitment to the Service to satisfy themselves that they are likely to qualify as physically fit, for experience has shown that a considerable number of the candidates are rejected by the Medical Board as unfit.

6. The Commission will only acknowledge receipt of an application or reply to an enquiry about an application unless stamped envelope accompanies the enquiry or request for acknowledgment. The Commission are unable to give any indication of what has been their recommendation to Government in respect of an application received by them.

(i) Bengali,

(ii) Hindi,

(iii) Urdu,

(iv) Nepali,

An order to appear before the Medical Board must not however be understood to mean that the candidate, if found fit, will necessarily receive an appointment as the number of candidates who will be summoned for medical examination will be slightly in excess of the total number of vacancies, and the question of his appointment will depend upon the results of the medical examination taken as a whole. Regulations governing the physical examination of candidates are set forth in Schedule IV of the Bengal Provincial Services Recruitment Rules and intending candidates are advised before they apply for admission to the examination to satisfy themselves that they are likely to qualify as physically fit under those regulations, for experience has shown that a considerable number of the candidates at the competitive examinations are subsequently rejected by the Medical Board as unfit.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Bill seeks to increase the revenue of the Province by raising the rate of the tax leviable under the Bengal Finance (Sales Tax) Act, 1941, from one quarter to one half of an annā in the rupee.

In order however that no additional burden may thereby be laid on the poor, provision has been made to exempt the only necessity of life not already included in the schedule of tax-free goods, namely, "the poor man's cloth", whether such cloth is hand-woven or machine-made.

No. 15L.—6th January 1944.—The Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 47 of the Bengal Legislative Assembly Procedure Rules the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information.

THE BENGAL RENT RECOVERY (UNDER-TENURES) AMENDMENT BILL, 1944.

A

BILL

to amend the Bengal Rent Recovery (Under-tenures) Act, 1865.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Bengal Rent Recovery (Under-tenures) Act, 1865 for the purpose and in the manner hereinafter apearing; Ben. Act VIII of 1865.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Rent Recovery (Under-tenures) Amendment Act, 1944

Amendment of section 1 of Bengal Act VIII of 1865

2. In section 1 of the Bengal Rent Recovery (Under-tenures) Act, 1865 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act) for the words "all officers exercising the full powers of a Collector of a district" the words "any officer vested with the powers of a Collector" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 3

3. In section 3 of the said Act—

(a) after the words "the lands lie" the words "or by other officer duly authorised in this behalf by the Provincial Government" shall be inserted, and

(b) after the words "by the said Collector" the words "or other officer as aforesaid" shall be added.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Under the existing law the Collector of a district should hold Patni sales personally on every occasion and if he is rendered unable to do so under emergent circumstances the sales must be held up—a position which is extremely unsatisfactory. In order to get over this unsatisfactory position with regard to the holding of Patni sales, it is necessary to amend the Bengal Rent Recovery (Under-tenures) Act, 1865 so as to empower any officer other than the Collector, whom the Provincial Government may by notification appoint to exercise the functions of a Collector under that Act.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 16L.—6th January 1944.—The Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 47 of the Bengal Legislative Assembly Procedure Rules the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information.

THE HINDU WOMEN'S RIGHTS TO PROPERTY (BENGAL AGRICULTURAL LAND) BILL, 1944.

A
BILL

to extend the operation of the Hindu Women's Rights to Property Act, 1937, to agricultural land in Bengal.

WHEREAS the Hindu women's Rights to Property Act, 1937, purported to give better rights to women in respect of property in general; XVIII of 1937

AND WHEREAS it has now been established that the said Act does not operate to give women better rights in respect of agricultural land;

AND WHEREAS many transactions have already taken place in Bengal on the basis that women had acquired better rights under the said Act in respect of agricultural land as well as other kinds of property;

AND WHEREAS it is therefore expedient to extend the operation of the said Act to agricultural land in Bengal with retrospective effect, but with certain savings, for the purpose of giving women better rights under the said Act in respect of agricultural land in Bengal as well as for validating the transactions referred to above and for other purposes;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Hindu Women's Rights to Property (Bengal Agricultural Land) Act, 1944.

(2) It extends to the whole of Bengal.

Extension of operation of Hindu Women's Rights to Property Act, 1937 to agricultural land in Bengal.

2. The expression "property" in the Hindu Women's Rights to Property Act, 1937, in its application to Bengal shall include, and shall be deemed always to have included agricultural land, and the provisions of the said Act shall apply to agricultural land in Bengal accordingly. XVIII of 1937.

Saving.

3. Notwithstanding anything contained in section 2 where any person who, but for this Act, would have been entitled to any property, has been in possession thereof or has before the 13th January 1944 made a transfer thereof, his possession up to the date of the commencement of this Act shall be deemed to be as lawful, and the transfer so made by him shall be deemed to be as valid, as if this Act had not been passed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Federal Court has held that the Hindu Women's Rights to Property Act, 1937 (XVIII of 1937) is ultra vires in so far as it relates to agricultural lands in the Governors' Provinces. In view of this it is considered necessary that legislation should be undertaken so as to extend the provisions of the Act to agricultural lands in this Province with retrospective effect in order to give widows the full measure of the benefit which the framers of the Act contemplated and to protect transactions already entered into on the faith of the Act with certain savings.

The Bill has been framed with these objects in view.

Amendment of section 36.

(6) in clause (f), for the word and figure "section 25" the words, figures and brackets "sub-sections (1) and (2) of section 25" shall be substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Experience of the working of the Bengal Tanks Improvement Act, 1939, shows that it is almost impossible to recover water rates for tanks improved under the Act, on a voluntary basis, as provided under section 16(2) of the Act and that it is essential that water rates should be made compulsory in order that full benefit might arise out of the improvement of irrigation tanks which has been taken up on a large scale in areas affected by drought. It has also been found necessary to make provisions for (1) empowering the Collector to modify the period of possession subject to the maximum period of twenty years in order that the cost with interest incurred by the authorised person may be realised within such period, (2) taking possession of any land adjoining a derelict tank that may be considered necessary for the purpose of carrying out improvements in the tank, (3) making only agricultural lands assessable to fees under the Act and (4) barring out the accrual of occupancy rights on the lands adjoining a derelict tank or its banks that may be leased out by the authorised person under section 18. The Bill has been framed with these objects in view.

Provided that no such order shall be set aside if the Court is of the opinion that the relief applied for cannot be granted without affecting a decree which was fully satisfied after the first day of January, 1939 and before the date of commencement of this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

BENGAL LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 361L.A.—14th February 1944.—The following report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Agricultural Income-tax Bill, 1943, with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by the Committee, is hereby published for general information.

Report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Agricultural Income-tax Bill, 1943.

We, the members of the Select Committee to which the Bengal Agricultural Income-tax Bill, 1943, was referred by a motion carried in the Bengal Legislative Assembly on the 16th September, 1943, have the honour to submit this our final report with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by us. Those matters which have been recommended by us for omission have been printed in italics and enclosed in square brackets and those recommended for new insertion have been underlined.

2 The Bill was published before introduction in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 26th August, 1943.

3. The Committee met for the first time on the 8th November, 1943, and continued their sittings till the 6th January, 1944, with occasional recess. But as the deliberations could not be finished by the 21st December, 1943 (the date appointed in this behalf by the Assembly), the Chairman of the Committee applied to the Hon'ble Speaker for extension of time till the 31st January, 1944, which was granted. The Committee has now been able to finish their deliberations on the Bill.

4. The Bill has not in our opinion been altered by our recommendation to the extent of requiring republication.

5. The changes made in the Bill, apart from mere formal and technical alterations, are as follows :—

Preamble.—The alterations here are consequential on our subsequent recommendation in the Bill.

Clause 2—Sub-clause (7a).—We are of opinion that the concept of Hindu undivided family as an unit of assessment is necessary only in the case of such families as are governed by the mitakshara law. Hence this definition has been added to restrict the meaning of the term accordingly.

Sub-clause (8).—This is a drafting change to make the intention clear.

Sub-clauses (12a) and (16).—We have considered it desirable to insert a definition of "received" used with reference to the receipt of the agricultural income by a person, and of the term "written down value" as we consider these necessary in view of alterations suggested by us in the body of the Bill.

Sub-clause (15).—We have changed the definition of "Total world income" to make it more precise.

CHAPTER I.

Clause 4.—We are of opinion that the agricultural income derived from buildings should be excluded from taxation.

The omission of the words "deemed to be received" is consequential.

In modifying sub-clause (b) we intend that in the case of partial dedication, the exemption should be limited to that portion of the agricultural income which is actually applied to religious and charitable purposes.

CHAPTER II.

Clause 5.—The amendments here are of a consequential nature. We consider it desirable that there should be two separate heads of account in respect of agricultural income derived from land.

Clause 6.—We found it desirable that allowances in respect of agricultural income from rent and revenue and from agriculture should be dealt with in two separate clauses.

We have limited the interest allowable under sub-clause (2) to such amounts as can be legally charged under the Bengal Money-lenders Act, 1940.

Sub-clauses (4) and (4A).—We have made separate provisions for allowances in respect of current repairs and depreciation. Sub-clause (4) has been recast and expanded to make it wide enough to suit the case of the Sundarban landlords and other similarly situated landlords who have to incur large costs to maintain the embankments. In sub-clause (4A) the allowance for depreciation has been limited to work or assets constructed or acquired after the commencement of the Act.

In sub-clause (6) we have added a proviso to enable the landlord who gets his accounts properly audited to take advantage of the actual cost. We have, however, thought it necessary to specify a maximum.

We have redrafted sub-clause (7).

We have added sub-clause (8) to cover all those expenses not specifically provided for but necessary for deriving agricultural income.

Clause 7.—We have redrafted this clause in consonance with our earlier recommendations.

Sub-clause (1).—We have added a proviso to provide for a presumptive cost of cultivation in certain cases.

Sub-clause (3).—We have considered it necessary to restrict the allowance so that allowance for interest on loans contracted before 1st September, 1941, will be admissible only when the loan is on mortgage and was made for the improvement of the land. Allowance for interest on loans contracted after the commencement of the Act will be admissible only if the loan was spent for acquiring or improving the land.

Clause 8.—We consider that any determination of the market value of the agricultural produce and any apportionment of a common charge made under the Indian Income-tax Act should be accepted. We are also of opinion that in the case of agricultural income derived from lands partly in Bengal and partly outside, an apportionment on the area basis is unsatisfactory and here also any apportionment under the Indian Income-tax Act, if available, should be accepted. We did not consider it expedient or desirable to give the Provincial Government any power as contemplated by the original sub-clause (b) of the proviso and have therefore omitted it.

Clause 9.—We consider that apportionment for the purpose of this section should be made on the income basis.

Clause 10.—We consider that the exemption in respect of life insurance premiums should be extended to cover premiums paid to effect insurance on the life of any male member of a Hindu undivided family or of his wife or minor child.

Clause 12.—We do not consider that the agricultural income of a wife or minor child derived from land jointly owned with the husband or father, as the case may be, should be deemed to be the agricultural income of the latter.

CHAPTER III.

Clause 13.—This clause has been merged in clause 15.

Clause 14.—The proviso to this clause has been incorporated in the new clause 15A. The other changes are of purely drafting nature.

Clause 15.—The changes are consequential on the deletion of clause 13.

Clause 15A.—In this new clause we have redrafted and expanded the proviso to clause 14.

Clause 16.—This is consequential on our subsequent recommendations in the Schedule.

Clause 17.—The deleted portion of this clause has been transferred to Chapter VI.

Clause 20.—The alteration here is of a drafting nature to make the intention more clear.

CHAPTER IV.

We have placed clauses 21 and 21A into a separate chapter. This, we think, improves the arrangement.

Clause 21A.—We have introduced the Appellate Tribunal to provide for better and more facilities of appeal.

CHAPTER IVA.

Clause 22 has been omitted as unnecessary.

Clause 24.—In sub-clause (1) we have made the intention more precise.

In sub-clause (4) we have added a proviso so that the time for submission of accounts or documents may be extended. We have omitted the second portion of the existing proviso which is unnecessary.

Clause 25.—We have extended the scope of sub-clause (5) for obvious reasons.

Clause 28.—We consider that the provisions of this clause should apply to companies also and that the notice period in sub-clause (2) should be extended to thirty days. The other changes are either consequential or of a drafting nature.

Clause 28A.—We have thought it necessary to introduce this new clause to provide for cases of change of constitution of a firm and other cases of succession.

Clause 29.—We have provided that for the purposes of this clause the Assessing Officer must accept the decree of a competent civil court or an amicably executed document of partition which has been acted upon.

Clause 34.—In sub-clause (1) we have provided for the communication to the assessee of an order fixing the date and place of hearing passed in his absence. We have deleted the second proviso to sub-clause (4) as we consider it unnecessary.

Sub-clause (5) is consequential.

Clause 35.—We have deleted this clause as we do not think that such wide powers of revision by the Commissioner are necessary in view of the introduction of the Appellate Tribunal and we have inserted a new clause providing for a second appeal to the Appellate Tribunal.

Clause 35A.—We have thought it necessary to provide for this limited power of revision by the Commissioner.

Clause 36.—We consider that the limitation period should be four years in all cases under this clause. We think that the second proviso to sub-clause (1) is unnecessary.

CHAPTER V.

Clause 42.—We have made provision so that the assessee may apply for extension of time as soon as he has presented the appeal. We have also made provision for grant of instalments on certain conditions.

Clause 43.—We have reduced the maximum penalty to a sum equal to half the arrears. In sub-clause (4) we have also provided for a period of limitation to recovery proceedings.

CHAPTER VI.

Clause 46.—The second portion of clause 17 has been merged in clause 46. We have, in sub-clause (5), provided for the manner of determining the total world income. The other changes are of a drafting nature.

Clauses 47 and 48.—As the scope of the Bill is limited to income (1) derived exclusively from lands and (2) originating exclusively within Bengal, we are of opinion (1) that any provision for relief of double taxation is not appropriate to the measure and (2) that the responsibility for relief of double taxation, if any, is on the other country which goes in for taxing agricultural income arising in Bengal. We have, therefore, deleted both the clauses.

CHAPTER VII.

Clause 52.—In sub-clause (2) we have reduced the maximum daily fine to rupees five only. The other alterations have been necessitated by our recommendations in the earlier clauses.

CHAPTER VIII.

Clause 56.—We consider it desirable to restrict the Provincial Government's power to make rules for the ascertainment and determination of agricultural income.

Clause 57—Sub-clause (2)(i).—We did not think it necessary to restrict this to the Scheduled Banks.

Sub-clause (2) (iv).—We did not think that the definition should be restricted as in the Bill. We have, therefore, made provision so that it might be so made as to suit all cases.

Sub-clause (3).—Dismissal from Government service should not be considered as a disqualification for practice in the Agricultural Income-tax Courts and we have accordingly amended the sub-clause.

We have provided for appeal to the High Court instead of to the Board of Revenue.

Clause 59—Sub-clause (2).—We considered it essential that the notice, in the case of a Hindu undivided family, should be addressed to the manager. The other change is purely of a drafting character.

Clause 60.—We have placed the question of place of assessment as much beyond dispute as possible. In the case of companies, firm or other association of individuals it is either the registered office or the place where its accounts are kept. In other cases it is the place of residence of the assessee or his agent, but the assessee has an option to be assessed at the place where his accounts are kept, provided that that place is in Bengal.

SCHEDULE.

A(2).—We have raised the exemption limit to Rs. 3,500. We have also introduced an alternative exemption limit of sixty standard bighas of land in certain cases. The other changes are consequential or are of drafting nature.

B.—The change is of a drafting nature.

(3) Note of dissent by Mr. Mirza Abdul Hafiz has not been received.

Joint Minute of Dissent by Mr. Dhirendra Nath Dutta, M.L.A., and Mr. D. N. Mukherji, M.L.A.

We beg to sign the report subject to the following note of dissent and we also reserve the right of moving any amendments that may be thought necessary.

We are of opinion that additional income is necessary by imposing a tax on agricultural income but the income derived therefrom should be reserved for improvement of agriculture and hence in the preamble of the Bill after the words "revenues of Bengal" the following words should be inserted:—

"to be applied solely for improvement of agriculture or for projects connected with agricultural improvements."

There is no reason why should there be any differential treatment as between an assessee who derives his income from rent or revenue and an assessee who derives his income from cultivation and so sub-clause (2) of clause 6 should be in line with sub-clause (3) of clause 7 as both deal with interest on mortgage or other borrowed capital and therefore we are of opinion that sub-clause (2) of clause 6 should be as worded as sub-clause (3) of clause 7 is.

An assessee from cultivation should also enjoy benefit of "Explanation" to the word "Maintenance" and hence we are of opinion that after sub-clause (5) of clause 7 an "Explanation" in the same language as it is found in Explanation to sub-clause (4) of clause 6 should be inserted.

Minute of Dissent by Mr. Ahmed Ali Mridha, M.L.A.

I sign the report subject to the following note of dissent:—

I am of opinion that—

(1) Sub-clause (2) of clause 6 shall be the same as sub-clause (3) of clause 7.

(2) The concluding word "thereto" in sub-clause (b) of clause 4 shall be substituted by the words "for the aforesaid purposes".

(3) In the explanation under clause 4 the following shall be added:—

In the case of wakf-alal awlad—"maintenance of the members of the family of donors shall be deemed to be within the scope of religious and charitable purpose."

(4) Income derived shall be reserved for improvement of agriculture within the province.

Minute of Dissent by Kazi Emdadul Haque, M.L.A.

The Agricultural Income-tax Act is not a war measure. It is a permanent measure with a far reaching character; we must therefore see that the money available be utilised properly. In fact, unless the money can be fully utilised for the advancement of agriculture in the land, this measure, to my mind appears to be unsupportable. I therefore suggest that the preamble must contain provision to that effect.

Joint Minute of Dissent by Mr. H. Rowan Hodge, M.L.A., and Mr. C. W. Miles, M.L.A.

1. There are a number of amendments to the Bill by the Select Committee which we are unable to support and we therefore reserve the right to move and support such amendments in the Legislative Assembly as we may deem advisable.

2. The scale of tax set out in the schedule makes it clear, in conformity with most scales of income-tax, that individuals with the larger incomes are to pay proportionately more tax than those with the smaller incomes. In addition, the Bill allows special privileges to persons with smaller incomes, e.g., by raising the lower limit of taxation to Rs. 3,000, by exempting altogether agriculturists with only sixty bighas of land and by allowing other individual and joint family agriculturists, even working their land with hired labour, fifty per cent. as the cost of producing the income; but zemindars are not to be entitled to the full cost of collecting their rents. In further contrast, share-holders, partners and members of associations by reason of restricted refunds are to suffer tax at rates higher than those imposed by the schedule and they, as well as companies and firms, are also to be exposed to the risk of double income-tax.

In the result the Bill clearly throws more than the fair burden of the tax on to agricultural income connected with business, particularly where the business is controlled from outside British India; notably from the United Kingdom.

3. For the purpose of this minute we are content to deal only with a few clauses to which we attach particular importance.

4. Clause 2(1)(a).—The words "in British India" in the definition, borrowed from the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, have been retained, we understand, to enable assessments to be made regarding land in Bengal which is assessed to land revenue outside the Province. To that we have no objection but a view has been expressed by certain officials that it would be within the competence of the Province under this form of definition by amendment hereafter to expand the field of taxation by taxing agricultural income from land outside the Province by adopting the "residence" basis or the "accrual" basis. We are strongly opposed to any such expansion of the field of taxation which we believe to be ultra vires the Provincial Government and we consider the definition should be brought into line with the Assam and Bihar Agricultural Income-tax Acts by substituting the name of the Province for the words "British India".

5. Clause 2(15).—We see no justification for enlarging the definition of total world income beyond even that comprised in the Indian Income-tax Act and we refer to this again in connection with refunds under clause 46.

6. Clauses 6 and 7.—The scheme of computation is based on collections but as regards allowances only actual payments made in the year of assessment are to be allowed, which is contrary to the principle of taxation adopted by the Indian Income-tax Act, even where the cash method of accounting is adopted. This will mean in the first years after the Act comes into operation that arrears which may be collected in those years will be taxed thus virtually giving retrospective effect to the tax but expenditure paid out in respect of such earlier collections will not be allowed as a deduction, unless it has been paid out in the actual year when the arrears were collected. The Bill thus has retrospective effect and, in addition, the tax-payer may even be deprived of the allowances.

7. Clause 6(6).—We do not consider it reasonable, where actual expenditure can be proved, to limit collection charges to 17½ per cent., to include also the cost of maintenance of katcharies and other capital assets and any expenses of litigation.

8. Clause 7(3) and (6).—We do not consider it reasonable to deprive agriculturists of the allowances for mortgage interest and depreciation in the manner in which these clauses have been amended.

9. Clause 24(4).—We are opposed to the amendment to the second proviso as we see no purpose in permitting the Agricultural Income-tax Officer to require production of accounts in the case of tea income, when such production is already permitted to the Indian Income-tax Officer in making the Central assessment.

10. Clause 46.—Notwithstanding the revision of this clause the characteristic of calculating the refunds by reference to the total world income is still retained. In the result, share-holders, partners and members of associations will suffer tax at rates considerably higher than other tax-payers under the Bill, and by enlarging the definition of total world income [clause 2(15)] the refunds to be had will be even smaller than as contemplated by the original Bill. It should not be overlooked that the object of taxing the company, firm or association instead of individual members is merely to facilitate tax collection. The revenue has thus been overpaid at the expense of the tax-payer until adjustment is had by refunds. The tax-payers should be in a position to get an adjustment so that in the final result he is not suffering tax at higher rates than anyone else. The basis of assessment is total Bengal agricultural income and this should be the basis upon which refunds are to be granted. Even so the revenue will make out of the taxation at the source basis, since many people will never make refund applications.

11. Clauses 47 and 48.—We do not consider it equitable to have deleted these clauses. It is universally accepted that the subject should not suffer double income-tax on the same income. Whilst we understand and appreciate the arguments set out in the Select Committee Report it should be remembered that Bengal is entering upon the legislative field with a taxation measure when a variety of other schemes of income-tax of other Governments are already in existence, some of which already charge tax on the Bengal agricultural income. To ignore this is to inflict double taxation. As regards the United Kingdom (clause 48), where the relief is given first by His Majesty's Government, on present rates no refund claims can possibly arise against the Bengal Treasury. The deletion of this clause is thus not designed to save anything for the Bengal Treasury but appears merely to record that the Bengal Legislature will not co-operate in the Empire scheme for reciprocal relief. We consider that both clauses should be restored. If the Bengal Government find hereafter that the Empire scheme is inequitable, representations may be made through the proper channels to His Majesty's Government for a revision of the scheme. Meanwhile the tax-payer should not be exposed to the risk of double taxation.

Minute of Dissent by Rai Harendranath Chaudhuri, M.L.A.

I am sorry I cannot agree with the report of the Select Committee as it stands and the points of my disagreement and the reasons for the changes I still consider necessary are given below.

1. In the all-embracing and unrelieved crisis through which Bengal has been passing, and the like of which has not been witnessed since 1770, she can hardly bear the burden of a new taxation on a major scale, much less a tax on her agricultural income and particularly on the income derived from rent. Those who are not ignorant of the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act are aware that agricultural income derived from rent paid by tenure-holders and raiyats is absolutely inelastic and cannot have increased at all on account of the present rise in the prices of agricultural commodities. Such income if it cannot be said to have deteriorated in value with the fallen rupee, has not certainly increased in amount with the present inflation, whatever may be the position of "mixed incomes" that have direct connection with the markets ruled by the War. The imposition of such a tax therefore to balance budgets, heavily unbalanced by expenditure due to the war, most of which again ought to be Central burden, is not only unjust in the present circumstances but an unjustifiable dissipation of resources that may be drawn upon on return of normal times for purposes of post-war reconstruction in the Province. Recently the Bengal Government brought out a Commission to examine the existing land-revenue system of the Province and to report "whether it was advisable to acquire all the superior interests in agricultural land." The Commission in recommending the abolition of what is called the Zemindari system (involving the interests of all but the actual cultivators) also observed that—

> "We should prefer an agricultural income-tax, to be imposed as a transitional measure until the scheme of State acquisition is effected, or as a permanent measure, if Government consider that State acquisition should not be undertaken for financial or other reasons. We are strongly of opinion that if agricultural income-tax is imposed, it should be applied solely for the improvement of agriculture, or for projects connected with agricultural improvement."

If such was the strong recommendation of the Commission before all talk of post-war reconstruction came to be indulged in and the present crisis disclosed the necessity of larger food production in the province, subsequent events must have lent additional strength to that recommendation and consistently with it the proceeds of the agricultural income-tax should have gone to finance expenditure for agricultural improvement and the preamble should have been amended accordingly. But the Committee was not permitted to make the amendment. Will the Legislature be enabled to do so? If not, it should be made a short term, emergency measure.

2. The provisions of the Bill have undergone considerable revision but the following amendments still appear to me necessary:—

(i) The definition of "agricultural income" in clause 2(1) should be made more explicit by adding an explanation that the word "cultivator" includes a producer who does not cultivate lands himself but carries on agricultural work by paid labourers. It is said that the definition given in the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, must be regarded as sacrosanct and that an exact copy of it must appear in the Bengal Act. If the word "revenue" in the definition of agricultural income as given in the Indian Act could be changed to "income" and the words "cess collected under any Bengal Act" introduced with impunity in the Bihar Act, if the Assam Act could add a big explanation regarding "tea" to the definition of the Indian Act without doing any mischief, certainly any addition which merely clarifies the meaning or states the dictionary meaning of a word in the aforesaid definition cannot do any harm. After the decision of the Patna High Court in Jhalak Prasad's case (I.L.R. Patna XX, p. 573) a verbal change which does not extend the field of taxation cannot reasonably be opposed. On the contrary omission to state the dictionary meaning, the whole meaning, of the word "cultivator" may leave a lacuna and make a narrow interpretation of the word "cultivator" possible, and the word may well be construed to mean an actual tiller or a raiyat who cultivates his lands himself and not a person who raises or plants crops by employing hired labour.

(ii) It is unfortunate that in defining agricultural income in clause 4 of the Bill while the two exceptions have been taken from section 4(3) of the Indian Income-tax Act, "receipts of a casual and non-recurring nature" have not been excluded from the category of income as they have been in item (vii) in the said section of the Indian Income-tax Act. The result will be that such receipts will come to be taxed under the scheme of agricultural income-tax, while they are excluded in clear terms under the existing scheme of non-agricultural income-tax in this country.

(iii) In clause 4 agricultural income derived from properties held under trust for charitable purposes has been excluded from the category of income. On the same ground amounts spent for "charitable purposes" should also be excluded in the calculation of total income, at any rate such amounts should be deducted in computing assessable income and some amendment on that line is necessary either to clause 4 or to clauses 6 and 7.

(iv) In clause 6 of the Bill even as revised by the Select Committee, it has been proposed to allow 15 per cent. as cost of collection including expenses of litigation and maintenance of katchari or any other capital asset. The Land Revenue Commission recommended that in buying up the properties 18 per cent. should be deducted as collection charges. There can be no justification therefore for not allowing collection charge at that rate in computing assessable income simply because the properties now remain with the owners. The collection charges under the management of the Court of Wards have, it is said, risen now to more than 20 per cent. To avoid all controversy about the correct percentage in this matter and yet to do justice in those cases where larger percentage of such charges is required, provision should have been made for the allowance of all expenditure actually incurred for earning the income as has been made in section 12 of the Indian Income-tax Act. The Privy Council in its judgment in Raja Pravat Chandra Barua's case (34 C.W.N., p. 1017) expressed the view that if agricultural income had not been excepted in the Indian Income-tax Act the income from zemindaries would have been taxed under section 12 of the Act and in that section allowance is made for "any expenditure incurred solely for the purpose of making or earning such income". If actual expenditure for management, collection, litigation and repairs be not deducted in determining the assessable income then the injustice of taxing notional income, which all income-tax measures seek in fairness to avoid, will be done. That in the revised clause an extra 2½ per cent. has been allowed in cases where accounts are audited in the prescribed manner can only benefit the Wards Estates or those few who keep their accounts as they are kept in mercantile business but it cannot be available to the generality of assessees who keep their accounts in the traditional manner and cannot easily have their accounts audited.

(v) Sub-clause (4) of clause 25 appears to make an undue exception. The powers referred to are powers to assess the agricultural income and determine the tax. It cannot be said from the legal point of view that such assessment and determination will not have to be made at all in cases coming under section 8(2). Only the discretion that is vested in the income-tax officer in sub-clause (1) is practically taken away by sub-clause (4) and the discretion is vested not even in the Assistant Commissioner but the Commissioner; yet the income-tax officer will be the assessing officer in the eye of law. He will have to do the work of assessment and determine the tax on his own responsibility at least in the cases contemplated in Explanation (ii) of section 8(2). When there is provision of appeal even in such cases sub-clause (4) should be deleted.

(vi) In sub-clause (3) of revised clause 7 which lays down separately the allowances to be made in the computation of "agricultural income from agriculture", while a premium has been put on cultivation by bargadars and hired labourers, the allowance in respect of interest on mortgages has been unfairly cut down to interest on pre-Bill mortgages and to that on future borrowings for the benefit of the land. Why interest on mortgages executed for other legitimate purposes, viz., for the benefit of the owner of the landed interest or to enable him to discharge his family obligations should not be allowed for, where the only or principal assets of the generality of assessees are land it is very difficult to appreciate. In the case of non-agricultural income the Indian Income-tax Act permits such deductions irrespective of the question of improvement of houses or landed properties [vide section 9(1)]. It is unfair to treat agricultural income from landed properties in a different manner.

(vii) Where any rectification under clause 37 of the Bill has the effect of enhancing the assessment, no provision has been made for appeal against such a rectification if improper. The order for such rectification should be made appealable just as an appeal will lie against assessment under the provisions of the Act.

3. But in spite of all the improvements that may have been effected in the provisions of the Bill in the Select Committee the Bill remains the same burdensome measure as it was introduced when the schedule with its high rates remains unchanged. For the first time agricultural income-tax is going to be imposed in Bengal and yet at the highest rate that has yet been devised for the purpose of such a provincial measure. The consideration and care with which the Government of Bihar moved in enacting the Bihar Agricultural Income-tax Law ought to have influenced the Bengal Government particularly at such an exceptionally hard time in the history of Bengal and both the taxable limit and the schedule of rates in the Bihar Agricultural Income-tax Act ought to have been adopted with probably a pie less for the two lowest grades of taxable income. In accordance with the scheme adopted even in the revised Bill agricultural income ranging between Rs. 3,500 and Rs. 5,000 will be taxed when the consumers' burden has so much increased in Bengal. While incomes above Rs. 10,000 will have to pay considerably higher, in some cases even 50 per cent. higher, taxes here in Bengal than similar incomes in Bihar and even taxes higher than those payable in Assam with its large tea concerns. To say that the rates adopted have been similar to those applied to non-agricultural incomes by the Central Act is to forget not only that the present Indian income-tax has a long history of growth behind it but also the obvious and wide difference between non-agricultural and agricultural incomes. While the former is much more elastic than the latter, the latter bears a great public burden and is really the residue that remains after meeting the first charge of revenue or rent and as such is deserving of greater consideration

Minute of Dissent by Maharajadhiraja Udaychand Mahtab Bahadur of Burdwan, M.L.A.

In submitting this Note of Dissent I am to record my basic opposition to the imposition of income-tax on agricultural income, especially when the province of Bengal is in the midst of unprecedented economic crisis. The case for the imposition of income-tax on agricultural income is very weak in Bengal, the more so when the tax is proposed for the balancing of the provincial budget to cover expenses owing to the war. It is well known that the incomes of persons derived from agricultural rent are inelastic and that they cannot enjoy any slice of benefit from the general rise in the prices of agricultural produce; moreover their purchasing power has definitely gone down because of the shooting rise in the cost of living. The Bengal Land Revenue Commission 1938-40 examined the land system in all its details and recommended an agricultural income-tax as a transitional measure "until the scheme of State acquisition is effected", and it was definitely of the opinion that the tax on agricultural income should be applied "solely for the improvement of agriculture or for projects connected with agricultural improvement". The preamble to the Bill should therefore be amended with a view to earmarking its proceeds for the improvement of agriculture.

I append my signature to the Report of the Select Committee subject to the following observations:—

(1) As agricultural income derived from buildings is exempted from the scope of the Act, sub-clause (c) of clause (1) of section 2 should be deleted. It is necessary to narrow down the definition of "agricultural income", and the Provincial Legislature is competent to do so.

(2) The purpose of a taxing statute is not to dismember the new property but to take away a slice of its income for public purposes. The fixation of a high rate of taxation will encourage the tendency to the partitioning of estates. The rate of agricultural income-tax is rather high, especially in view of the fact that Bengal has the largest number of middle tenures with low assessable incomes. As the Act is going to effect prejudicially the middle classes of Bengal, it is expedient and desirable in the interests of the given basis of class relations that the rate of income-tax on agricultural income should not be high. The rate may start with six pies in the rupee making the slabs more steep like the Bihar Agricultural Income-tax Act with a view to ensuring fair dealings to the assessees. The Hindu undivided family will suffer greatly if a sufficiently lower rate is not fixed.

(3) It is to be made clear in the definition of "total agricultural income" that receipts of a casual and non-recurring nature do not fall within the category of income.

(4) Clause (8) of section 6 may not cover the following allowances:—

(a) the amount of any annual charge not being a capital charge in respect of such land;

(b) any sum paid by the assessee as interest in the previous year on loans for payment of land revnue or rent and any local rate or cess in respect of such land;

(c) the amount of penalty paid by the assessee in the previous year on the arrears of land revenue;

Under the Indian Income-tax Act the amount of interest paid in respect of capital borrowed for the purpose of business is deducted. The amount of interest paid in respect of capital borrowed for the payment of revenue or rent or local rate or local cess is fundamental for carrying on the business of agriculture, and as such it should be expressly deducted. It will stifle private charities if the amounts spent for charitable purposes are not deducted in respect of ascertainment of assessable income.

(5) The Select Committee have drawn a sharp line of distinction between agricultural income from rent or revenue and agricultural income from agriculture. To students of social sciences this distinction is significant, but for the purpose of assessment both the grades of income falling under the category of agricultural income from land should be dealt with as one unit. A very liberal computation of allowances has been provided for in section 7 in the matter of agricultural income from agriculture. Take the case of an individual cultivating land with the aid of hired labourers. He is entitled to the following allowances:—

(c) Any local rate or cess.

(d) The amount of interest in respect of mortgage or charge created on or before the 1st of September, 1941, for the benefit of such land.

(e) Any sum paid as interest or loans under the Agricultural Loans Act, 1884, or the Land Improvement Act, 1883.

(f) Any expense on the maintenance of irrigation or protective work.

(g) Depreciation in respect of any irrigation or protective work or other capital asset

(h) Any premium for insurance against loss of or damage to such land or crops.

(i) The amount by which the written down value of the machinery or plant exceeds the amount for which the machinery or plant is actually sold or its scrap value

(j) Any other necessary expenditure except capital expenditure or personal expenditure.

Section 6 read together with section 7 illustrates that an individual who is not a rent receiver but a farmer carrying on his business with the aid of hired labourers can easily produce a statement of accounts with a view to exempting him from the scope of taxation, even though he has factually an assessable income. This special concession to individuals carrying on agriculture with the aid of hired labourers will lead to the discouragement of the bhag-system ensuring common partnership of landlords and tenants in the task of agriculture. This taxing statute will thus indirectly lead to further levelling down of agricultural labour displacing the produce-rent and the cash-rent tenancy. It is an accepted maxim, with which we are in agreement, that actual tillers should be given all kinds of encouragement and protection to pursue their sacred task of cultivation, but all this falls within the scope of tenancy legislation. A taxing statute should treat similiarly situated persons alike, and if it discriminates, it leads to undesirable repercussions.

It is further apprehended that should such arrangement be sanctioned in law, the rent-receiving community may be loaded with further burdens to make up the losses consequential on the evasion of individuals carrying on agriculture with the aid of hired labourers. This is inexpedient and unfair.

(6) The Appellate Tribunal, as envisaged in section 21A, should consist of persons having knowledge and experience so that the confidence of the assessee may be ensured. Accordingly, the lawyer member should be strictly recruited from barristers or advocates of the High Court practising professionally for a period of not less than ten years. The period of five years, as suggested, will help junior practitioners to be a member of the Tribunal which will not be helpful for the ends of justice. A pleader or an agricultural income-tax practitioner may be found lacking in experience necessary for judicial determination, and as such it is better that they should be debarred from membership of the Tribunal.

The period of appointment of any member of the Tribunal should not be left to the discretion of the Provincial Government which may give legitimate gounds of complaint. The period should be for five years, the sitting members being entitled to reappointment. Much too interference by the Provincial Government with the determination of the period of a member of the Tribunal would seek to impair his independence, so necessary in a Tribunal of the kind contemplated in section 21A.

The procedure of the Appellate Tribunal should, as far as possible, follow the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code.

(7) In sub-clause (iv) of clause 2 of section 57 it is left to the Provincial Government to prescribe the necessary educational qualifications of an "agricultural income-tax practitioner". Any person who does not hold a degree in law of any Indian University should not be allowed to be an agricultural income-tax practitioner. It will spell injustice to the assessees if persons without adequate training are given permission to practise before any agricultural income-tax authority.

Minute of Dissent by Mr. Abdul Latif Biswas, M.L.A.

I cannot accept with a sense of satisfaction the definition of "Hindu Undivided Family" as given by the Select Committee by adding sub-clause (7a) to clause 2. The definition has restricted the meaning of "Hindu Undivided Family" by excluding "Hindu Undivided Family" governed by Dayabhaga Law from the purview of this definition and including only "Hindu Undivided Family" governed by Mitakshara Law within its scope. This restricted meaning of "Hindu Undivided Family" is sure to cause mischief in the matter of assessing agricultural income-tax inasmuch as this meaning will help the escape from taxation of agricultural income derived from the properties standing in the name of the karta of a Hindu Undivided Family governed by Dayabhaga Law, which (income) is otherwise assessable falling within taxable limit, as the karta of such a family availing himself of the restricted meaning of "Hindu Undivided Family", which has left the Hindu Undivided Families governed by Dayabhaga Law outside its scope may and as a matter of fact will plead that his family is not a "Hindu Undivided Family" within the meaning of the definition and as such though the agricultural income of the properties standing in his name as the karta of the family falls within taxable limit will not be assessable when shown divided in respective shares among his family members who have right, title and interest in those properties. It will not be fair that such a family as enjoys and derives all the advantages of a Hindu Undivided Family and is recognised as such by Hindu Law will escape this taxation taking its stand on the restricted meaning of the definition. This, to me it seems is against the spirit of the proposed legislation. I am strongly of opinion that Hindu Undivided Family should be defined to mean all Hindu Undivided Families whether governed by Mitakshara or Dayabhaga Law.

2. I disagree with the opinion of the majority by which the words "or finally set apart for application" in the 6th and 7th lines of sub-clause (b) of clause 4 have been deleted. By this decision it has been provided that when a property is held in part under trust for religious or charitable purposes or in the case of a Muslim Trust commonly known as Wakfal-al-aulad that portion of the income which has been finally set apart for the application to religious or charitable purposes but has not been actually spent within the year will not be exempted from taxation. There should be no such distinction. There may be various factors which may stand in the way of speedy application of that portion of income. But for that reason money meant for religious and charitable purposes should not be subject to this taxation.

3. I hold that the allowance of a sum equal to fifteen per cent. of the total rent or revenue which accrued to him in the previous year in case of an assessee who cannot produce his account audited and certified to be correct by an accountant and seventeen and one-half per cent. maximum in case of an assessee who can produce such audited and certified account, by way of the cost of collection of such rent or revenue including the maintenance of any kachari or other capital assets and any expenses of litigation is unreasonable and unfair and it appears to be high and excessive. In any case this allowance should never exceed a sum higher than twelve and one-half per cent. of the total rent or revenue accrued to the assessee in the previous year and if the assessee wastes no money and maintain strict supervision over his staff he may keep such cost within ten per cent. Another fact should be considered in this connection. When a decree is passed the decree-holder gets his legal cost and if a landlord loses a case instituted against his tenant it may fairly be presumed that he had recourse to litigation as a sort of luxury or oppressive measure to teach his tenant a good lesson. In case he wins, he gets his legal cost and if he loses it may be said that his litigation was the outcome of his whims and caprices and in both the cases these expenses should not be taken into account when any allowance is made by any income-tax officer. I am further of opinion that there should not be any distinction between an assessee who can produce his account audited and certified to be true by an accountant and an assessee who cannot produce such audited account.

4. The proviso to sub-clause (1) of clause 7 has allowed a sum equal to fifty per cent. of the market value of the produce raised from the land as the cost of cultivation in respect of all agricultural income derived from land referred to in sub-clause (b) of clause 4 of section 2 in case of an individual or Hindu Undivided Family only whose primary means of livelihood is agriculture and whose source of agricultural income is land possessed by such individual or family and cultivated by such individual or by the members of such family with or without the aid of hired labourers. This proviso has limited the scope of allowance only to those individual or Hindu Undivided Family whose primary means of livelihood is agriculture and whose source of agricultural income is land only. I think this has treated very badly and harshly other persons whose primary means of livelihood is not agriculture and whose sources of agricultural income is not land. This presumptive cost of cultivation has been allowed, I believe on the ground that it is difficult on the part of the cultivator to keep account of the expenditures proposed to be allowed under sub-clause (1) (i), (ii), (iii) and (iv) of clause 7. Why a sum equal to 50 per cent. of the market value of the produce raised from land has been proposed to be allowed as a presumptive cost of cultivation instead of some other per cent will be found in the fact that throughout the province of Bengal the bargadars or adhiars keep one half of the produce raised from the land under their barga cultivation as cost of such cultivation and give the other half to the owners of the land and that other half is the agricultural income from land. If the owner of a land when it is given in barga gets one half of the produce as his share which will be construed to be his agricultural income from that land and the other half falling in the share of the bargadar is taken as the cost of cultivation. I do not find any reason why one half of the produce raised from land kept in owner's cultivation instead of giving it in barga will not be allowed as cost of cultivation, only because the primary means of livelihood of such owner is not agriculture and his only source of agricultural income is not land possessed by him and cultivated by such owner with or without the aid of hired labourers. The proviso may in it have magic but it certainly lacks in logic. In all fairness the presumptive cost should be allowed to all whether their primary means of livelihood is agriculture or not and whether their only source of agricultural income is from land or otherwise.

5. I disagree with the provision contained in sub-clause (a)(i) and (ii) of clause 12 of the Bill in which it has been provided that the total agricultural income of a wife or a minor child from the property transferred by the husband or the parent as the case may be in favour of wife or minor child otherwise than for adequate consideration shall be included into the agricultural income of such husband or parent. Here the adequacy or otherwise of the consideration has been considered to show the bona fide or mala fide of the transaction. One fact has been lost sight of and it is this that in spite of the inadequacy of the consideration a transaction may be bona fide and valid transferring the right, title and interest to the transferee. An instance of Muslim Hibabil Ewaj may be cited. A gift of a large property in exchange of a copy of the Holy Koran or a tasbi may be made and in this case though the consideration is inadequate and meagre the transaction is valid resulting in the transfer of right, title and interest from the donor to the donee. So I do not find any reason why the agricultural income from a property received from the husband or of the minor child from the property received from a parent by this sort of transfer though the consideration is inadequate will be included into the agricultural income of the husband or the parent as the case may be. The criterion should be whether the transfer is valid or not. In case of valid transfer to the wife or a minor child such income should not be included into the income of the husband or a parent as the case may be.

6. One word regarding the proviso (ia) of the schedule where it has been provided that a person possessing sixty standard bighas of land with some conditions contained therein should be exempted from assessment. I think that this exception is made to save the illiterate cultivators from the difficulties of submitting the return complicated in its nature when their agricultural income falls below the assessable limit. If that is the reason exception should be made with regard to one hundred standard bighas of land instead of sixty standard bighas as the probable agricultural income in normal time of one hundred standard bighas is not likely to reach assessable limit.

Minute of Dissent by Mr. Shahed Ali, M.L.A.

So far the preamble of the Bengal Agricultural Income-tax Bill is concerned there is no mention how the money accrued from this taxation will be utilised. It was the view of many members of the Select Committee that the entire income should be earmarked for improvement of the productivity of soil and condition of the agriculturists. It was ruled out that it is not within the scope of the Select Committee to change the preamble as outlined above, as they are concerned only with taxation but not with appropriation. It is the power of the Legislature to cancel, modify or alter it. With these words I draw the attention of the members of both the Houses of Legislature to this aspect of the Bill.

In the "Explanation" of clause 4(b) there is no definition of "Charitable purpose", "Charitable purpose" should also include all the trusts, obligations and wakfs recognised by Muhammadan Law. As such all the wakfs including Wakf-ul-Aulad should have found place in clause 4(b) of the present Bill.

In computing the total agricultural income, the simple Heba, Heba-bil-Ewaj or Heba-bil-Shart should have been taken into serious consideration by the Committee. In clause 12 of the Bill all the hebas or gifts or obligations otherwise than with adequate consideration, will be included for the purpose of assessment. By this provision we come into direct conflict with the provisions of Muhammadan Law. The transfers by heba are equally valid and binding as transfers for consideration.

I do not see any earthly reason why this should be included for the purpose of taxation alone.

The taxable unit under this Bill should have been Rs. 4,000 instead of Rs. 3,500.

BENGAL LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No 524L.A.—4th March 1944. With reference to the footnote at the end of e Report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Agricultural Income-tax Bill, 1943, blished with notification No. 361L.A., dated the 14th February 1944, in Part IV the Calcutta Gazette of the 17th February 1944, it is hereby notified for general formation that Mr. Mirza Abdul Hafiz, Member, Bengal Legislative Assembly, has bsequently submitted the following minute of dissent.

K. Ali Afzal,
Secretary to the Bengal Legislative Assembly.

inute of Dissent on the Select Committee Report of Bengal Agricultural Income-tax Bill, 1943, by Maulvi Mirza Abdul Hafiz, M.L.A.

Although I have agreed with many points of the report but still there are some in ich case I most respectfully differ. I have tried to note some of them as follows ugh in a great haste. I reserve also the right to file amendments later on when uired:—

1 With respect to the partial dedication, e g, wakf-al-al-aulad—wakf for the ily discendants has not been exempted from the operation of this Act as that portion y of the agricultural income actually applied to religious and charitable purposes s been exempted. Its result would be I apprehend that the public wakf far to speak the private wakf the tendency of making which has already been decreased to a ater extent would very seldom be made by the generous Muslims and the wakf ncefforth made still existing in tottering condition would gradually cease to exist. also can be said that the people may be allowed to public charity only overlooking it to the family descendants. But that is unpractical and if so frequently made a large number of people it would create a chaos and anomaly in the society reasing the number of labouring class and converting the nearest and dearest ones the wakf executors into the day labourers. So in any case it won't be beneficial if private wakf be not exempted

2 The agricultural income of a wife or minor child derived from land transferred ectly or indirectly by the husband or father shall be deemed to be the agricultural ome of the latter and consequently be taxable under this Act. This would put a rier to the normal course freely used so long specially among the Muslims. Accord- to Muhammedan Law there is no joint family system and so the property once transferred as for instance by hebabil-ewaj by the husband or father to the wife minor child can never be taken back by the former and the income derived therefr directly accrues to the wife or minor child. So I do not find any reason why t agricultural income of such a property already transferred by heba or hebabil-e shall be deemed to be the income of the transferor and be assessable. The Agricultur Income-tax Acts of Bihar and Assam for such reason and others have refrained fro making any such provision.

3. The Appellate Tribunal system has been newly introduced by a narrow marg of votes of the members of the Select Committee. This system would entail a hea cost in the department. In the case of the Central Income-tax Act in spite of t income of some crores of rupees per annum the Appellate Tribunal system has be introduced only the other day (1939) that is some 18 years after its introduction He the expected income in comparison with that of the Centre is very very limited by practical experiences of some years it is found that without Appellate Tribu more facilities in appeal cases cannot be given or some other defects and difficult are confronted with then it can be inserted at any time in near future. But while w ourselves always do press hard the Government for minimising administrative cos there is no reason why we shall again put the Government in the similar anomalo position.

4. The general case of the buildings has been abandoned from the operation this Act though those of the cultivators or rent receivers in connection with the agricul tural land and income are included. By omitting the buildings in general case valuable forum for the agricultural income has been left out.

5. With a view to keep the tenants at the safest distance from the operation this Act the financial exemption limit according to my idea should have been mad equal to that of the Bihar Act and the alternative exemption limit of only six standard bighas of land has been too low while the Bihar Act has exempted up 200 acres. There is absolutely no justification to make the land exemption limit low in Bengal. Numerous people would unnecessarily be harassed by being ser with notice and in submitting returns. In Bengal the land exemption limit shou be at least one hundred acres. In this connection the following points amongst ma others are to mark, namely,—

(i) Neither the Government nor the cultivators themselves could have introdu or can introduce in near future an improved and scientific method cultivation.

(ii) Owing to the huge wastage of manures in the shape of cow-dungs, raw-bon etc., uneconomic and fragmentation of holdings, defective seed ignorance of cultivators, etc., the yields of the crops in Bengal have be very low.

(iii) The jute being a mainly important crop its cost of cultivation is undoubted greater than the value of the produce as the cultivators are circumstance over and above the fact that they little get the proper marketing facilit due to the war emergency and indifference on the part of the Governme also.

(iv) In Bengal a large number of jote lands are in the name of the predecesso or heads of the family in spite of many co-sharers having shares a interest in the property.

(v) In char and beel areas owing to thickly or over-population the cultivato very frequently keep a large number of jote lands in their name includi diluviated, uncultivated char or fallow chala lands only in apprehens that they may not get them again in future if once abandoned relinquished.

(c) The method and procedure of determining factors of the taxable amount in each individual case regarding rate of crops in normal as well as abnormal times and various other matters being unknown, there is every apprehension that stringent measure may be adopted by which a larger section of the people may be victimised under the operation of this Act though they ought not to have been so.

6. The rate appears to be slightly high, much higher in some cases than that of Bihar Act though lower than that of the Central Act and the slab system that has n adopted appears to be more stringent than that of the step system.

7. The Land Revenue Commission has expressed their strong opinion that the icultural income-tax if imposed should be applied solely for the improvement of iculture or for projects connected with agricultural improvement. But here we not find any hint, suggestion, earmark or promise that a major portion or any tion would be spent for the improvement either of the agriculture or agriculturists.

Lastly, I am of opinion that of all the people affected by this Act, namely, of the ndlords, tenure-holders and the agriculturists; the last one, and with respect to the communities of Hindus and Muslims the Muslim community, would be affected by the operation of this Act. By excluding the Hindu undivided family governed by the Dayabhaga Law mostly inhabited in Bengal from the purview of this Act Hindu community has been safe from its sting on this line. However, I do not kn if most of the uprising middle class people can stand the strain and save them hardship caused by the operation of this Act as they hardly can get their chil proper training, improved diet and bare medicine required for the purpose. I a afraid to predict that their future is overclouded as the Government does not co forward with the proposal that they after adopting this or other such measure wou take the charge of their children to give education free up to the Matriculati Standard, supply them with improved type of diet, medicine and necessary clothi at reasonable price or help them to improve lands by irrigation and other necess measures to produce crops treble or more like other provinces and countries.

PART IV A—Bills introduced in the Bengal Legislative Assembly; Reports of Select Committees presented or to be presented to that Assembly; and Bills published before introduction in that Assembly.

BENGAL LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 538L.A.—6th March, 1944.—The following report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Supervision of Orphanage and Widows' Home Bill, 1940, with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by the Committee, is hereby published for general information.

Report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Supervision of Orphanage and Widows' Home Bill, 1940.

We, the members of the Select Committee to which the Bengal Supervision of Orphanage and Widows' Home Bill, 1940, was referred by a motion carried in the Bengal Legislative Assembly on the 13th September, 1940, have the honour to submit this our final report with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by us annexed. Matters recommended by us to be omitted have been printed in italics and enclosed in square brackets and all new matters recommended to be inserted have been underlined.

2. The Bill was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 26th September, 1940.

3 As the Committee could not meet before the 30th November, 1940, the date appointed in this behalf by the Assembly, at the meeting of the Assembly held on the 4th December, 1940, at the instance of the member-in-charge of the Bill, the time for submission of the report of the Committee was extended till the 31st January, 1941, and again at the meeting of the Assembly held on the 4th April, 1941, it was further extended till the 30th June, 1941, by the House on a question put from the Chair. The Committee met for the first time on the 28th May, 1941, and at that meeting the Committee decided to circulate the Bill to all municipalities and all associations recognised by Government including some of the well-known Maternity and Child Welfare Homes for the purpose of eliciting their opinion on the Bill. Opinions received by the 15th June, 1941, the date fixed by the Committee to be the latest time for receipt of opinions were printed and circulated to the members of the Select Committee for their consideration. But as the deliberations could not be concluded before the 30th June, 1941, up to which the time for submission of the final report was extended by the Assembly, the Chairman of the Committee presented an ad interim report to the House on the 20th August, 1941, and on a question put from the Chair the time for submission of the final report was again extended till the 30th November, 1941. This time was further extended till the 30th September, 1942, by orders of Mr. Deputy Speaker during recess. Then again at the instance of the member-in-charge the time was further extended till 31st December, 1942, by the Assembly on a question put from the Chair on the 23rd September, 1942 This date, too, having expired without a meeting of the Committee being held, the time for submission of the final report was further extended till the 31st January, 1944, or till the commencement of the next session of the Assembly whichever is earlier by order of the Hon'ble Speaker during recess. The Select Committee met on the 24th January, 1944, and again on the 29th January, 1944, when they concluded their deliberations and came to a final decision on the provisions of the Bill.

4. The Bill has been substantially altered by our recommendation and we consider that it requires republication.

5. The changes made in the Bill, apart from mere formal and technical alterations, are as follows :—

Title.—We have recommended alterations in the title of the Bill by deleting unnecessary words.

Long Title and Preamble.—This is only a drafting change.

Clause 1.—This is only a drafting change.

Clause 2.—Sub-clauses (1) and (5).—We have considered it desirable to insert definitions of "Calcutta" and "Prescribed" in accordance with our subsequent recommendations.

Sub-clauses (2), (3), (4), (5) and (6).—We have redrafted the definitions of "marriage bureau", "orphan", "orphanage", "widow" and "widows' home" to make them more precise.

We have omitted the definitions of "Licence", "Person", "Regulation", "Registered" and "Society" as we consider these unnecessary.

Clause 3.—We have redrafted this clause and have added a proviso to enable the existing institutions to obtain licence within a specified period.

Clause 4.—This clause has been recast and made more comprehensive. The Commissioner of Police has been included as the authority competent to issue licences in Calcutta. We gave our careful consideration to the provision regarding sufficiency of funds at the disposal of the society to run the institution. But we did not consider it expedient to put such restrictions as some charitable institutions may not have sufficient funds at the outset. The other changes are of a drafting nature.

Clause 5.—In redrafting the clause we have omitted the provision that a licence may be cancelled for "any other sufficient cause" as we do not consider it expedient or desirable to give such wide powers.

Clause 6.—This clause has been recast and expanded. The provision for the inspection of the institutions has been retained in this clause. The rule-making powers of the Provincial Government have been provided in a new clause.

Clause 7.—This clause has been omitted as the provisions of this clause has been incorporated in the proviso to clause 3.

Clause 8.—In expanding and redrafting this clause we have considered the necessity of imposing a daily fine for a continuing offence.

New clauses 9 and 10.—We consider it necessary that these provisions should be included.

New clause 11.—We consider it desirable to add a new clause giving the Provincial Government powers to make rules.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Wakf (Amendment) Act, 1940.

2. After section 18 of the Bengal Wakf Act, 1934, the following proviso shall be added :—

"provided that it shall not exceed Rs. 1,000 per mensem."

3. After section 23 of the Bengal Wakf Act, 1934, the following proviso shall be added :—

"provided that the salary of any such officer shall not exceed Rs. 500 per mensem."

5. After section 44 of the Bengal Wakf Act, 1934, the following section shall be inserted :—

"44A. The Board of Wakfs shall keep an up-to-date register of all the mosques in Bengal showing the following particulars :—

(c) Approximate area or number of houses or adult inhabitants served.

(e) Distance from nearest mosque or mosques.

6. Sub-section (1) with the proviso thereof of section 59 of the Bengal Wakf Act, 1934, shall be repealed and the following shall be substituted in the place thereof :—

"For covering the expenditure of the headquarters 10 per cent. of the obligatory alms (Sadaqa-i-Wajibah) locally collected shall be remitted to the Board of Wakfs."

7. After sub-section (5) of section 59 of the Bengal Wakf Act, 1934, the following sub-section shall be added :—

"(6) The Board of Wakfs shall collect and distribute locally through the agency of the local Mosque Committees, the Zakats, Fitras, and the hides of Kurbani or the prices thereof strictly in accordance with the Shariat Law : Provided that under exceptional circumstances it might be sent outside the area of collection."

8. In place of "Wakf Fund" in sub-section (1) of section 61 and all the succeeding sections of the Bengal Wakf Act, 1934, Baitulmal Fund shall be substituted.

9. After sub-section (2) of section 62 of the Bengal Wakf Act, 1934, the following shall be added :—

"And for the economic, educational and religious uplift of the Muslim Community."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Doubts have been raised by some ulama regarding the legality and validity according to the strict Shariat Law, of taxing the Wakf Estates against the intention and interest of the original founders (Wakifs) under the Bengal Wakf Act, 1934, but at the same time for the proper management of the Wakf Estates some sort of supervision and control over the Mutwallis is necessary on account of their mismanagement and misappropriation in some cases and funds are required for that purpose. These funds may be obtained from some portions of the obligatory alms (Sadaqat-i-Wajibah) which are at present much misused and as the Provincial Legislature is not competent to tax the money income of the Mutwalli's share of the Wakf Estates, the Federal Government should be approached to delegate to the Provincial Legislature the authority to tax 10 per cent. of this net income of the Mutwallis out of their shares of the Wakf Estates ; and pending that the Local Government should make up the deficiency, if any.

Furthermore, as Wakfs, Mosques, Zakats, Fitras, the prices of the hides of Kurbani and all other obligatory alms (Sadaqa-i-Wajibah) are akin matters appertaining to Muslim Community alone and are governed by the Shariat Law, so all these should be administered under the same Act and by the same department with minimum cost and maximum efficiency.

Therefore, in order to make the Bengal Wakf Act, 1934, all comprehensive it is proposed to amend it by additions and modifications.

THE BENGAL STEAMER KHALASIS BILL, 1943.

(As introduced in the Assembly on September 28, 1943.)

10. Any breach of the provisions of this Act shall be penalised by a fine of Rs. 500 on a complaint made to any 1st class Magistrate.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Bill aims at—

(a) Recognition of the khalasis directly by the employer in charge of the management of the steamers navigating in the province of Bengal.

(b) Total abolition of the present anomalous practice of leaving the khalasis entirely at the mercy of the masters, serangs and drivers who taking full advantage of their ignorance and economic helplessness exploit them to the fullest possible extent.

(c) Fixation of the minimum salary of the khalasis at Rs. 20 per month in addition to usual leave and free pass, etc.

The Bill if enacted into law would appreciably solve the growing unemployment problem of the province as the steamer companies normally require a huge number of khalasis and would improve their standard of living.

A BILL

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the restoration of the agricultural lands to the tenants alienated by them during the year 1943 as a result of the prevailing economic distress.

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

1. (1) This Act may be called the Bengal Alienation of Agricultural Land Act, 1944.

(2) It extends to the whole of Bengal.

3. The provisions of this Act shall have effect notwithstanding anything contained to the contrary in any other law for the time being in force.

4. If on or after the 1st January, 1943, and before the 1st January, 1944, a tenant has transferred any holding by sale or any consideration the actual amount or value of which that passed does not exceed 500 rupees in rural areas and one thousand rupees in urban areas and if,—

(Clauses 5—13.)

5. When the Collector makes an order under section 4 restoring any holding to the ownership and possession of a tenant such order shall have effect on the 1st Baisakh next following the date of the order and if before that date the person in possession of the holding has not yielded possession of the holding to such tenant the Collector may of his own motion and shall on the application of the tenant, eject such person and place such tenant in possession of the holding.

8. Instead of applying under section 4 for the restoration of his holding a tenant may at his own option apply for the conversion of the transfer by the sale of his holding into a complete usufructuary mortgage and in such case the Collector shall make an order in writing converting the said transfer by sale into a complete usufructuary mortgage with the transferee or person in possession as mortgagee as for a period of ten years or such a shorter period as in the circumstances of the particular case is in the opinion of the Collector justified.

10. If a tenant has not availed or cannot avail the opportunity of any section of this Act his case would be treated as a complete usufructuary mortgage for a period not exceeding ten years after which it would be treated as fully redeemed property and the liability shall be deemed to have been extinguished.

11. On the expiry of the period of the mortgage if the mortgagee does not yield possession of the mortgaged holding to the tenant the Collector may of his own motion and shall on application of the tenant, eject the mortgagee and place the tenant in possession of the holding.

12. Neither the High Court nor any civil court shall have jurisdiction in any matter which the Collector is empowered to dispose of under this Act.

13. The Provincial Government may make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The plight and misery of the teeming millions of the country owing to the horrible economic distress during the year 1943 knew no bounds. Innumerable people in severe distress being in want of food used to take china, kaon, kalai, kachu, ghechu and what not and have sold their hearth and home, almost everything moveable and not infrequently immoveable property that they had and most unfortunately some millions have taken shelter into the graves. However, the present Bill is intended to give a bit relief now to the tenants for the restoration of the agricultural lands alienated by them during the year owing to such untold hardship.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to amend the Calcutta Improvement Act of 1911 so as to provide for the extension of the operations of the Calcutta Improvement Trust to the town of Howrah for the improvement and expansion of that town, for which there has been a strong local demand for some time past.

2. The main features of the Bill are briefly explained below :—

(1) In order to provide for the representation of the various interests in Howrah on the Board of Trustees for the Improvement of Calcutta and to ensure that the representatives of Howrah may have an adequate opportunity of considering all schemes relating to that area at their inception, it is proposed to enlarge the constitution of the Board by the addition of five representatives from Howarh and to set up a Standing Committee—to be known as the Howrah Committee—on which the Howrah representatives shall form the majority ; this Committee shall consider, in the first instance, all proposals relating to the improvement of Howrah prior to their being placed before the Board of Trustees.

(2) At present there is no sewerage system in the town of Howrah, and as no adequate improvement of a modern town is possible without such system, it is proposed specially to authorise the Board of Trustees to execute a complete Howrah Drainage and Sewerage Scheme, including outfall and pumping works.

(3) For financing the operations of the Board of Trustees in the town of Howrah (or, as occasion may arise, in areas adjacent thereto on the west side of the river Hooghly), it is proposed to constitute a separate fund, to be called the Howrah Fund, to which will be credited—

(i) the proceeds of an additional stamp duty of two per centum on transfer of immovable properties, including long-term leases, within the Howrah Municipality ;

(ii) a contribution from the Municipal Fund of Howrah equivalent to one-half per centum per quarter on the annual rateable valuation of holdings within the Howrah Municipality, there being an obligation on the Municipal Commissioners of Howrah to make up the deficit if the combined proceeds from these two sources fall short of Rs. 2½ lakhs in any year ;

(iii) an annual sum of not less than Rs. 3 lakhs to be contributed by the Board of Trustees for the Improvement of Calcutta from its present resources.

(4) Provision has also been made in the Bill for the Provincial Government, after approving and sanctioning the Howrah Drainage and Sewerage Scheme, to contribute one-third of the capital cost of the Scheme.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 1232.—17th June 1944.—In pursuance of the provisions of rule 50 of the Bengal Legislative Assembly Procedure Rules, the following Bill which was introduced in the Bengal Legislative Assembly on the 12th May, 1944, is hereby published for general information together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons annexed thereto.

THE BENGAL TENANCY (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1944.

A BILL

to amend further the Bengal Act VIII of 1885.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make further provision for the amendment of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (i) This Act may be called the Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1944.

(ii) It extends to the whole of Bengal.

(iii) It shall come into force on such date as the Provincial Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint.

Amendment of Schedule.

2. In Schedule III, Part III—Applications, in column 1 (Description of application), in item 6, the expression "and not being a decree for a sum of money exceeding Rs. 500, exclusive of any interest which may have accrued after decree upon the sum decreed, but inclusive of the costs of executing such decree;" shall be omitted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This amendment is necessary in order to prevent the landlords from dragging for 12 years an execution of a rent decree exceeding Rs 500 under the provision of the Limitation Act, 1908, and excluding the special limitation of three years provided by the Bengal Tenancy Act. This exclusion of the execution proceedings from the special limitation of the present Bengal Tenancy Act has caused widespread distress amongst the tenants who cannot come out of the clutches of the landlords for a long period of 12 years. It is to remedy this defect in the Act that the present amendment is required. Moreover now that a new provision has been made in the Bengal Tenancy Act to put up to sale only the tenancy in respect of which the arrear rents are due in the execution of the rent decree, there is no necessity of extending the period of execution for 12 years as required before.

THE BENGAL LAND REVENUE SALES (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1944.

A
BILL

to amend Act XI of 1859.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make further provision for the amendment of the Bengal Land Revenue Sales Act, 1859;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Bengal Land-revenue Sales (Amendment) Act, 1944.

(2) It extends to the whole of Bengal.

(3) It shall come into force on such date as the Provincial Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint.

Amendment of section 37.

2. In the 7th line of section 37 of the Bengal Land Revenue Sales Act, 1859, hereinafter referred to as the said Act, after the words "under-tenures", the words "lying entirely within that estate" shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 37.

3. In the second exception of section 37 of the said Act, after the words "at a fixed rent", the words "or tenures held at a fixed rent or rate of rent or rent-free tenures existing for more than fifty years prior to the date of such sale" shall be inserted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Since the Calcutta High Court Full Bench decision in the case of Khemankari Dassi vs. Rani Harsha Mukhi Dassi reported in 47 Calcutta Weekly Notes, page 582, a difficulty has arisen regarding annulment of a tenure partly within one estate sold for arrears of revenue and partly within another estate which cannot, however, be separated without the partition of these estates. If the portion of the tenure is wholly included within one estate and partly within another and the tenure cannot be divided without the division of the estates by metes and bounds, such a tenure should not be annulled by a revenue sale without subjecting the tenure-holder to a multiplicity of suits. In order to safeguard the interests of such a tenure-holder, the first amendment is absolutely necessary.

Regarding the second amendment, it is hardly possible to trace an existing tenure, even it be created before the Permanent Settlement, from the very old records of the Settlement most of which are now lost or rendered useless after a lapse of 150 years and the demarkation marks, boundaries and description of the lands under that tenure have undergone considerable changes so as to baffle proper identification. There is nothing in the present Land Revenue Sales Act like the provision of section 50(2) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, for a presumption of a tenure arising from the time of the Permanent Settlement by showing in respect thereof payment of a fixed rent or rate of rent which has not been changed during the twenty years immediately before the institution of a suit or proceeding for the same. Consequently, the tenure-holder is always to feel the insecurity of his tenancy and is subjected to great difficulties at every revenue sale when he is to run the risk of an annulment of his tenure whatever improvement he might have made in the lands in the meantime. In order to protect his interest, this amendment is required.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make further provision for the amendment of the Bengal Money-lenders Act, 1940;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (i) This Act may be called the Bengal Money-lenders (Amendment) Act, 1944.

Amendment of section 36.

2. After section 36 (1) (c) add the following after the word and figures "section 30".

"or allow him to pay the whole amount of the decree in such instalments as it may think fit."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This amendment is necessary in view of the recent ruling of the High Court that in a mortgage suit no relief can be granted to a judgment-debtor under the Act where he only seeks permission of the Court to pay the decretal amount by instalments. The proposed amendment will enable the judgment-debtor to get instalments even in cases where he can claim no other relief.

No. 2108L.A.—11th December 1944.—The following report of the Select Committee e Bengal Close Season for Fishes Bill, 1943, with the Bill embodying amendments mended by the Committee is hereby published for general information.

ORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE ON THE BENGAL CLOSE SEASON FOR FISHES BILL, 1943.

We, the members of the Select Committee to which the Bengal Close Season for s Bill, 1943, was referred by a motion carried in the Bengal Legislative Assembly ay 12, 1944, have the honour to submit this our final report with the Bill embodying dments recommended by us annexed. Matters recommended by us to be omitted been printed in italics and enclosed in square brackets and all new matters recom-ed to be inserted have been underlined.

2. The Bill was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 25th November, 1943.

3. The Committee met for the first time on August 8, 1944, when the Hon'ble ster in charge of the Revenue Department was elected Chairman to preside over the erations of the Committee. The Committee next met on August 18, 1944, and there-from time to time till August 31, 1944, when they concluded their deliberations and to a final decision on the provisions of the Bill.

4. The Committee decided to hear expert evidence and accordingly, the Director of ries appeared before the Committee and gave evidence on the points referred to him.

5. The Bill has been substantially altered by our recommendation and we feel that quires republication.

6. The changes made in the Bill, apart from mere formal and technical alteratio are as follows:—

Long title and Preamble.

We have recommended alteration in the long title and preamble of the Bill by us suitable words so that the aims and objects of the Bill might be better expressed Clause 2.—We have considered it desirable to insert a definition of "fry". The d nition of private water has been made more comprehensive and precise.

Clause 3.—In this clause we have given powers to Government to exclude any fish fishes whose spawning season might not be in the months of Jaistha and Ashar and declare any other close season for those particular fishes according to the needs and nec sities of different parts of the Province earlier or later than the period mentioned subj to the condition that it should not exceed two months.

Clause 4.—We have allowed catching of fish, fry, spawn or ova during close sea for the purpose of pisciculture only.

New Clauses 5A and 5B.—We consider it necessary to add these new clauses to prov unhindered movement of "fry" of carp variety of fish during the season for spawning, to check indiscriminate catching of the "fry". We have considered the importance pisciculture and have given power to Government to prescribe by rules the method condition under which ova, spawn or fry can be caught.

Clause 6.—We consider that a fine of Rs. 50 would be quite adequate for the offe committed under the provisions of the Bill.

Minute of Dissent by Mr. Idris Ahmad Mia, M.L.A.

I) The title of the Bill should be "The Bengal Fish Protection and Conservation 1944". The word "preservation" is used throughout India in relation to various ıds of preserving for the time being, dead fish, so conservation is the next suitable II) Hilsa, lobster and other small varieties of fish shall be allowed to be caught during lose Season. Although technically "lobster" does not belong to "fish" variety it shall :luded in the species of fish because very few know that it is not fish.

III) In proviso (a) of clause 4 the word "ova" shall be added after the word "spawn" tching of ova is essential for pisciculture. In fact without this trade of collecting ıd allowing it to develop in tanks, it would be very hard to remove scarcity of fish ghout Bengal.

IV) To clause 5A other carp varieties shall also be added.

V) Clause 5B is not necessary as this will add unnecessary harassment to the poor e who have got their own methods of catching and preserving fish for pisciculture. ver time is not opportune for purchasing or making new instrument which must be costly.

VI) Clause 7 is not desirable. In the original Bill there was no provision of this e. If these are made cognisable offences, then village chowkidars, daffadars, police s and many others shall enjoy the benefit of free supply of fish by the law breakers. ast for some years this provision is not necessary.

Amendment of the Coroners Act, 1871 and Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

2. The Coroners Act, 1871, and the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, shall, in their application to Bengal, be amended in the manner provided in this Act.

Amendment of section 8 of Act IV of 1871.

3. To the first paragraph of section 8 of the Coroners Act, 1871, ending with the words "inquire into the cause of death" the following proviso shall be added, namely:—

"Provided that, unless the Provincial Government otherwise directs, no such inquiry shall be held in the case where the death of any person has been caused by enemy action."

Amendment of section 174 of Act V of 1898.

4. To sub-section (1) of section 174 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, the following proviso shall be added, namely:—

"Provided that, unless the Provincial Government otherwise directs, it shall not be necessary under this sub-section, in any case where the death of any person has been caused by enemy action, to make any investigation or to draw up any report or to send any intimation to a Magistrate empowered to hold inquests."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Under section 8 of the Coroners Act, 1871, or under section 174 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, in their application to Bengal, a Coroner or a Police Officer is required to hold inquests or to make any investigation in cases of deaths caused by an accident. Government are advised that a death caused by enemy action may be regarded as "accident" within the meaning of section 8 of the Coroners Act or section 174 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. In the case of fatal casualties caused by enemy air-raids, it is considered necessary to preclude inquests by the Coroner or any investigation by the Police Officer in such cases as this procedure is likely to cause great inconvenience and delay in the disposal of bodies. It is moreover unnecessary to have an inquest held or investigation made in such cases. It is therefore proposed to amend the Coroners Act and the Code of Criminal Procedure to provide that no inquiry should be held by the Coroner or by the Police Officer in cases of deaths caused by enemy action unless the Provincial Government so directs.

31. When under this Act a Court is authorized to make an order on the application of a landlord or a tenant, the application shall be made to the Civil Court which would have jurisdiction to entertain a suit for possession of the non-agricultural land comprised in the tenancy in connection with which the application is brought.

32. The provisions of this Act shall have effect in respect of all suits or proceedings including proceedings in execution for ejectment of a non-agricultural tenant which are pending at the date of commencement of this Act.

Rules.

33. (1) The Provincial Government may, subject to the condition of previous publication, make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely :—

(a) the manner in which the landlord or the tenant may apply to the Court under sub-section (2) of section 7 ;

(b) the forms of the notices referred to in sections 14 and 15, the manner of service of such notices and the amount of the process fees referred to in the said section ;

(c) the manner in which the landlord's fees referred to in section 15 shall be transmitted to the landlord, the costs of transmission of such fees and the manner of payment of the landlord's fees and cost of transmission under sub-section (12) of that section ; and

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Government have considered the Report of the Non-Agricultural Land Enquiry Committee and are of the opinion that notwithstanding the provisions of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, the non-agricultural tenants who hold lands under a lease for residential, business, manufacturing or other purposes are in need of better security. It is obvious, however, that the degree of protection cannot be the same for all classes of tenants and it has been considered necessary to make a distinction between tenancies which are—

(1) of unknown origin or which originated from before the Transfer of Property Act, 1882 ;

(2) held under a written lease for a specified period of not less than twelve years ;

(3) held under a written lease but without specification of any period or without a written lease but originating from after the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, in either case the period of possession not being less than twelve years ;

(4) held under a written lease or otherwise for a period of more than one year but less than twelve years.

It is proposed to confer permanent, heritable and transferable rights on all tenants coming under (1). Lessees under (2) should have a right of renewal on fair and equitable terms, but in case the lessor has allowed a pucca structure to be constructed on the land, the tenant should have the status of a permanent lessee irrespective of the period of occupation. Lessees under (3) should have a permanent heritable right. All holdings coming under (2) and (3) should be transferable on payment of a landlords' transfer fee. A perversion of user or a breach of a condition of the contract should be the only grounds on which a tenant under (1), (2) and (3) can be evicted. In case of tenants under (4) provision has been made for payment of compensation under certain circumstances in case of eviction.

The Bill has been drafted to provide for these protective rights and also to confer other incidental but necessary rights on the non-agricultural tenants of the different classes.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 65L.—18th January 1944.—The Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 48 of the Bengal Legislative Council Procedure Rules, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information.

THE HINDU WOMEN'S RIGHTS TO PROPERTY (BENGAL AGRICULTURAL LAND) BILL, 1944.

A BILL

to extend the operation of the Hindu Women's Rights to Property Act, 1937, to agricultural land in Bengal.

WHEREAS the Hindu Women's Rights to Property Act, 1937, purported to give better rights to women in respect of property in general; XVIII of 1937.

AND WHEREAS it has now been established that the said Act does not operate to give women better rights in respect of agricultural land;

AND WHEREAS many transactions have already taken place in Bengal on the basis that women had acquired better rights under the said Act in respect of agricultural land as well as other kinds of property;

AND WHEREAS it is therefore expedient to extend the operation of the said Act to agricultural land in Bengal with retrospective effect, but with certain savings, for the purpose of giving women better rights under the said Act in respect of agricultural land in Bengal as well as for validating the transactions referred to above and for other purposes;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Hindu Women's Rights to Property (Bengal Agricultural Land) Act, 1944.

(2) It extends to the whole of Bengal.

Extension of operation of Hindu Women's Rights to Property Act, 1937, to agricultural land in Bengal.

2. The expression "property" in the Hindu Women's Rights to Property Act, 1937, in its application to Bengal shall include, and shall be deemed always to have included agricultural land, and the provisions of the said Act shall apply to agricultural land in Bengal accordingly. XVIII of 1937.

Saving.

3. Notwithstanding anything contained in section 2 where any person who, but for this Act, would have been entitled to any property, has been in possession thereof or has before the 13th January 1944 made a transfer thereof, his possession up to the date of the commencement of this Act shall be deemed to be as lawful, and the transfer so made by him shall be deemed to be as valid, as if this Act had not been passed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Federal Court has held that the Hindu Women's Rights to Property Act, 1937 (XVIII of 1937) is ultra vires in so far as it relates to agricultural lands in the Governors' Provinces. In view of this it is considered necessary that legislation should be undertaken so as to extend the provisions of the Act to agricultural lands in this Province with retrospective effect in order to give widows the full measure of the benefit which the framers of the Act contemplated and to protect transactions already entered into on the faith of the Act with certain savings.

The Bill has been framed with these objects in view.

(2) If the owner of an animal seized under the proviso to sub-section (1) applies in the prescribed manner for the return of such animal to his possession, the animal shall be so returned if such owner pays any expenses, calculated in the prescribed manner, incurred for the isolation, segregation, upkeep and treatment of the animal up to the date of its release :

Provided that on the release of the animal the owner shall comply with any order which the Veterinary Assistant may see fit to issue under sub-section (1)

(4) Notwithstanding anything in sub-sections (1), (2) and (3) if the Veterinary Assistant, after due examination of any animal, certifies in writing that such animal is affected with any of such contagious diseases as may be prescribed in this behalf, he may destroy the animal or deal with it in such other manner as may be prescribed.

(c) the kinds or classes of animals which shall be vaccinated or inoculated in respect of each contagious disease referred to in section 7 ;

(d) the manner in which an application under sub-section (2) of section 8 shall be made ;

(e) the manner in which any expenses referred to in sub-section (2) of section 8 shall be calculated ;

(g) the contagious deseases referred to in sub-section (4) of section 8 ;

(h) the rules subject to which a Veterinary Assistant may issue an order under section 9 ;

(i) the tests to which an animal may be subjected under section 11 ;

(j) the rules subject to which a post mortem examination of an animal may be made under section 12 ;

(k) the manner in which an animal may be buried under sub-section (1) of section 13 ;

(l) the rules subject to which a Veterinary Assistant may take action under section 17

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The high mortality among cattle in Bengal due to epidemic diseases is well known, but there is at present no statute in this province to control them Action taken on a voluntary basis cannot be effective, as restriction on the movement of diseased cattle from one place to another, their segregation, and mass inoculation of healthy stock in affected areas are among the measures which must be taken to bring about a speedy control of the epidemic diseases. This Bill has accordingly been prepared vesting Government with powers to undertake the necessary control measures.

2. The Glanders and Farcy Act, 1899, already in force in this province applies to horses, camels, asses and mules. Under section 2(1) of that Act, its provisions can be extended to apply to these animals affected with any dangerous epidemic disease by a notification issued by the Provincial Government in the Official Gazette. It is not, therefore, considered necessary to extend the provisions of the present Bill to horses, camels, asses and mules.

to the person in possession of the holding as a result of such alienation ;

(b) in the case of alienation by means of,—

(i) a bona fide lease for valuable consideration, or to the transferee and the person in possession of the holding as a result of such alienation in such proportion as the Collector may deem fair and equitable.

(ii) a usufructuary mortgage,

(3) If such holding is subject to a bona fide mortgage other than a usufructuary mortgage and such mortgage was executed after the transfer of such holding referred to in section 4, the Collector shall first pay out of the amount deposited with the Collector under clause (c) of that section to the mortgagee the amount due under the mortgage as determined by the Collector and, if there remains a balance after the said amount has been paid, such balance shall be paid in the manner provided in sub-section (1) or sub-section (2), as the case may be.

Optional conversion of transfer of land into complete usufructuary mortgage.

7. (1) Instead of applying under clause (a) of section 4 for the restoration of his holding a raiyat or an under-raiyat may at his own option apply for the conversion of the transfer by sale of his holding into a complete usufructuary mortgage and in such case if the raiyat or under-raiyat otherwise complies with the provisions of clauses (a) and (b) of section 4, the Collector shall make an order in writing converting the said transfer by sale into a complete usufructuary mortgage with—

(a) in the case of alienation by any of the means referred to in clause (a) of sub-section (2) of section 6, the person in possession of the holding as a result of such alienation as the mortgagee, and for a period of ten years or such shorter period as in the circumstances of the particular case is in the opinion of the Collector justified.

(b) in all other cases the transferee as the mortgagee,

(2) When the Collector makes an order under sub-section (1) converting a transfer by sale into a complete usufructuary mortgage for a period specified by him, the right, title and interest in the holding accruing to the transferee as a result of the transfer shall, with effect from the date of such order, be deemed to have vested in such raiyat or under-raiyat, as the case may be, subject to such complete usufructuary mortgage and free from all other encumbrances, if any, created after the date of the transfer, and it shall not be necessary for the raiyat or the under-raiyat, as the case may be, to deposit the amount referred to in clause (c) of section 4 with the Collector and the liability for the payment of any amount referred to in the said clause shall be deemed to be extinguished on the expiry of the said period.

The Bengal Alienation of Agricultural Land (Temporary Provisions) Bill, 1944.

(Clauses 8– 10.)

(3) On the expiry of the period of the mortgage, if the mortgagee does not yield possession of the mortgaged holding to the raiyat or the under-raiyat as the case may be, the Collector may of his own motion, and shall on application of the raiyat or the under-raiyat, eject the mortgagee and place the raiyat or the under-raiyat, as the case may be, in possession of the holding.

Exclusion of jurisdiction of High Court and Civil Courts.

8. Neither the High Court nor any Civil Court shall have jurisdiction in any matter which the Collector is empowered to dispose of under this Act.

Power to make rules.

9. (1) The Provincial Government may make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Act

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely :–

(a) the manner in which a raiyat or under-raiyat is to apply to the Collector under clause (a) of section 4:

(b) the manner in which the Collector is to determine the amount of any compensation allowed under clause (c) of section 4:

(c) the manner in which the net income referred to in clause (c) of section 4 is to be determined, and

(d) the manner in which the payments referred to in section 6 are to be made.

Continuance of action taken under Bengal Ordinance IV of 1943.

10. Any rules made or anything done or any action taken or any proceedings commenced in exercise of any power conferred by or under the Bengal Alienation of Agricultural Land (Temporary Provisions) Ordinance, 1943, shall, on the said Ordinance ceasing to be in operation, be deemed to have been made, done, taken or commenced in exercise of the powers conferred by or under this Act as if this Act had commenced on the 24th day of December, 1943.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

As a result of the prevailing economic distress many raiyats and under-raiyats transferred their holdings by sale to maintain themselves and their families and thus reduced themselves to the position of landless labourers. Such transactions mostly took place in the year 1943. It is considered desirable that provision should be made by legislation to enable those raiyats and under-raiyats who transferred their holdings in this way during 1943 to get them back immediately or at some future date. The Bill has been framed with this object in view.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 239L.C.—17th February, 1944.—The following report of the Select Committee on the Advocates' Robes Bill, 1941, by Rai Bahadur Brojendra Mohan Maitra, M.L.C., with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by the Committee, is hereby published for general information.

REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE ON THE ADVOCATES' ROBES BILL, 1941.

(As introduced in the Council by Rai Brojendra Mohan Maitra Bahadur, M.L.C.)

We, the members of the Select Committee to which the Advocates' Robes Bill, 1941, was referred by a motion carried in the Council on the 24th September, 1943, have the honour to submit this our Final Report with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by us. Matters recommended by us to be omitted have been printed in italics and enclosed in square brackets, and all new matters recommended by us to be inserted have been underlined.

2. The Committee met for the first time on the 23rd November, 1943, and concluded their sitting on the 24th November, 1943.

3. The Bill has not been altered by our recommendation to an extent requiring republication.

4. The Bill was published after introduction in the Calcutta Gazette of the 1st January, 1942, under rule 51 of the Bengal Legislative Council Procedure Rules.

5. The changes made by us are detailed below :—

Long Title and Preamble.—We have added a long title and have redrafted the Preamble to make it more explicit.

Clause 1.—We have made slight drafting changes in this clause and have renumbered it as sub-clause (1) of clause 1.

Clause 2.—We have omitted the provision regarding the date on which the Act is to come into operation leaving it to the provisions of the General Clauses Act and have redrafted this clause. We have renumbered this clause as sub-clause (2) of clause 1 of the Bill.

Clause 3.—We have made only slight drafting changes in this clause and renumbered it as clause 2.

Clause 4.—We have redrafted this clause and renumbered it as clause 3. We have allowed six months' time to the High Court in place of three months after the coming into force of this Act as originally provided for in the Bill, within which the High Court shall prescribe the uniform robe for wear by Advocates. We have also made the wearing of such robes by Advocates when appearing in their professional capacity before any Court, compulsory after the expiry of six months after the termination of the war or six months after the coming into force of the Act, whichever is the later. We have added a proviso exempting the Advocate-General of India and of the Provinces of India from the operation of this clause.

Minute of Dissent by Mr. Bankim Chandra Datta, M. L. C.

Unavoidable circumstances took me away from town for about three months, and as such I could not have any notice of the meetings held by the Select Committee.

It is one of those very few Bills which is not for the general benefit of the people and is based on an imaginary grievance born of an inferiority complex.

The sponsor of the Bill does not apparently seek the unification of the Bar as this Bill want only uniformity in robes among practitioners in the Calcutta High Court, leaving the other classess of lawyers to shift for themselves.

The following classes of lawyers practise in the various Courts of Bengal :—

(i) Vakils.

(ii) District Court Pleaders, Small Cause Court Pleaders and Police Court Pleaders.

(iii) Mukhtears.

(iv) Revenue Court Agents.

(v) Solicitors.

(vi) Barristers.

It is somewhat obscure as to what he (sponsor of the Bill) means by saying that "as a necessary step towards the creation of a united Bar, there should be a uniform robe for Advocates of the High Court". This clearly shows that he does not like the idea that the High Court Vakils or Advocates should wear the same robes as the District Court Pleaders or Mukhtears, etc.

The Barristers have, from time immemorial, had a distinctive robe worn by them all over the world. There is no reason why they should be deprived of the same or that others should be allowed to copy them.

The matter of robes, if I may say so, is a domestic matter for the learned Chief Justice and the Judges of the Hon'ble High Court. They have, after hearing all concerned, exercised discretion and prescribed certain modes of robes for lawyers practising in that Court and I venture to submit that a piece of legislation like this would be a direct interference with the jurisdiction of the Hon'ble High Court and should not have been introduced in this Legislature.

The Indian Bar Councils Act has dealt with the status of the Barristers and Advocates of the High Court as also the question of seniority among them and thereafter there should be no grievance against the Barristers at all. This cry for the same robes for all, is, I regret, born of all imaginary grievance, possibly among a very few members ; inasmuch as a large number of the Vakils or Advocates would never grudge the robes as they can stand in their own merits, without caring for this or that robe.

It is a mere cry for the shadow and the valuable time of the Legislature should not have been wasted by such an unnecessary piece of legislation.

[NOTE—All matters omitted by the Select Committee have been printed in italics and enclosed in square brackets, and all new matters inserted have been underlined.]

THE ADVOCATES' ROBES BILL, [1941] 1943.

A

to prescribe a uniform robe for wearing in Court by Advocates.

WHEREAS it is expedient to [help in the creation of a unified Bar for the Province of Bengal and as a necessary step towards that end to prescribe a uniform robe for] provide for ensuring the uniformity of the robes to be worn by Advocates of the High Court when appearing in any Court including the High Court in their professional capacity*[,]*;

[it] It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act [shall] may be called the Advocates' Robes Act, 1943.

[2. This Act shall come into operation in this whole of Bengal on the day on which it is published in the "Calcutta Gazette" and it shall apply to all Advocates enrolled as such in the High Court.]

(2) It extends to the whole of Bengal.

Definitions.

[3.] 2. In this Act—

(a) [the words] "High Court" [shall] means the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal in its Original as well as Appellate Jurisdiction, and

(b) [the word] "Advocate*[s]*" [shall have] has the same meaning [and import] as in the Indian Bar Councils Act, [XXXVIII of] 1926. XXXVIII of 1926.

[4. Within a period to be prescribed by the High Court not being more than three months from the date on which this Act comes into force the High Court shall prescribe one uniform robe for all Advocates appearing in Court without reference to any other robe such Advocates might be entitled to wear as a member of any learned body.]

High Court to prescribe uniform robe for Advocates.

3. Notwithstanding that any Advocate may be entitled to wear any particular robe by virtue of his being a member of any legal body or association, the High Court shall prescribe within six months after the coming into force of this Act one uniform robe for wear by Advocates of the High Court when appearing in their professional capacity before any Court including the High Court and no Advocate of the High Court shall, after the expiry of six months after the termination of the present war or six months after the coming into force of this Act whichever is the later, when so appearing, wear any robe other than the one so prescribed:

Provided that the provisions of this section shall not apply to the Advocate-General of India or the Advocate-General of any Province in India.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

It appears that the question of robes for its Advocates has long been agitating the High Court at least since 1929.

While trying to dispose of the matter in the interests of uniformity the Court made rules which led not to uniformity but really to diversity. At present there are three classes of robes worn in the High Court—

(i) An Advocate's robe prescribed by the Court,

(ii) A Barrister's gown,

(iii) A blue gown prescribed by the Court in 1907 for Vakils.

Recently there have been instances where the Court has itself not followed its own rules.

The idea for a long time has been to have a self-contained Indian Bar. Uniformity in robes is a step towards that end.

This Bill is therefore introduced to secure that end.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2341.—3rd March 1944.—The Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 48 of the Bengal Legislative Council Procedure Rules, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information :—

THE BENGAL EMBANKMENT (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1944.

A

BILL

further to amend the Bengal Embankment Act, 1882

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Bengal Embankment Act, 1882 for the purposes and in the manner hereinafter appearing ; Ben. Act II of 1882.

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Embankment (Amendment) Act, 1944

Amendment of section 7 of Bengal Act II of 1882.

2. In section 7 of the Bengal Embankment Act, 1882-

(a) for the words "or works executed" the words and brackets "or works (including any work of repair) executed" shall be substituted ; and

(b) after clause (1) the following clause shall be inserted, namely :-

Repair of embankments.

"(1a) that any embankment which connects public embankments or forms by junction with them part of a line of embankments or is necessary for the protection of the neighbouring country, should be repaired ;".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Sometimes it so happens that due to the negligence of the owner a private embankment falls into disrepair and breaches that occur in it are not closed. Collectors have no power under the Bengal Embankment Act, 1882 (Bengal Act II of 1882) to get the repair done without taking charge of the embankment for future maintenance nor can the owner be compelled to make necessary repairs. It may not be always convenient or expedient to take charge of an embankment for future maintenance by Government. The result is that the embankment is left unattended to with the consequence that the people whose properties used to be protected by it suffer.

It is therefore proposed to amend the Bengal Embankment Act, 1882 (Bengal Act II of 1882), so that Collectors may have power to have necessary repairs done to a private embankment where considered necessary without taking charge of its future maintenance and recover the cost thereof from the people benefited by the work.

THE BENGAL ANTI-DOWRY BILL, 1944.

A BILL

to abolish the receipt of dowry in connection with Hindu marriages.

WHEREAS it is expedient to abolish the practice of receiving dowry in connection with Hindu marriages;

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Bengal Anti-Dowry Act, 1944.

(2) It extends to the whole of Bengal.

(3) It shall come into force on such date as the Provincial Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, appoint.

Definitions.

(a) paid by the father or guardian or any relative of a bride, or by any person on behalf of a bride, to a bridegroom or the father or guardian or any relative of a bridegroom, or

(b) paid by a bridegroom or the father or guardian or any relative of a bridegroom, or by any person on behalf of a bridegroom, to the father or guardian or any relative of a bride, or

(c) displayed before the gaze of the visitors and guests attending the marriage ceremony

in consideration of any marriage between Hindus, whether such payment is made before or during the solemnization of the marriage, but does not include any gift in money or in kind made voluntarily by and to any of the persons aforementioned after the solemnization of the marriage or in conformity with the absolutely necessary religious ceremony which forms part of the solemnization of the marriage;

(2) "marriage" means a contract for the union of a male person and a female person, and includes a ceremony for such union recognized by Hindu religion.

Prohibition of payment or receipt of dowry.

3. No person, being the father or guardian or relative of a bride, or on behalf of a bride, or being a bridegroom or the father or guardian or relative of a bridegroom, or on behalf of a bridegroom, shall receive a dowry.

The Bengal Anti-Dowry Bill, 1944.

(Clauses 4—6.)

Procedure. 5. (1) No Magistrate other than a Presidency Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class shall try an offence punishable under section 4.

(2) An offence punishable under section 4 shall be non-cognizable, and shall be triable in accordance with the procedure provided in the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, for the trial of summons cases.

(3) No Magistrate shall take cognizance of an offence punishable under section 4 unless the complainant has deposited in the Government Treasury the sum of one hundred rupees, except in cases where the complainant is the actual party who paid the dowry or a bona fide social welfare Association.

(4) No Magistrate shall proceed to try an offence punishable under section 4 until the accused has been afforded an opportunity of showing cause before the Court against his prosecution.

(5) If, at any time after taking cognizance of an offence punishable under section 4, a Magistrate is satisfied that the complaint is false and either frivolous or vexatious, he shall, for reasons to be recorded by him in writing, direct that the whole of the sum deposited by the complainant under sub-section (3) be forfeited and may direct the complainant to pay to the accused such sum by way of compensation as the Magistrate thinks fit.

Appeal. 6. Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force, an appeal shall lie respectively to the High Court or the Sessions Judge from any order made under section 5 by a Presidency Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The dowry or pana system in connection with a marriage agreement is really obnoxious and is a standing disgrace to a society in which it is prevalent. Not only Snehalatas are victims to this pernicious practice but many cultivator or artisan classes of Bengal are going to be extinct under the pressure of the all-levelling steel roller of kanyya pana or bride-money; whatever these people lay by with their sweated labour they lose in contracting costly marriages from their point of view and often become burdened with mortgages and pledges which they can never redeem. All the brothers of a family in many cases cannot marry and if a wife is dead he cannot dream of a second marriage. Widow remarriages being still unknown utter ruin stares these classes in the face. This evil custom is on the other hand spreading its baneful effects on the society of our sister community of common origin, namely, the Muslim community of Bengal. The poor Muslim peasantry are constantly complaining that their society is also imitating this ruinous custom from their Hindu brothers. Like infectious epidemics of Bengal this pestilential custom is eating into the vitals of the society and is no respecter of persons, communities or classes. It requires a strong hand to put it down. When society loses its soul it requires a lashing of the severest nature to bring it round to its sense from the stupor and callousness of ages. I have the greatest respect for the opinion of those who think that social conscience should be roused by educating public opinion and bringing moral pressure thereon. But this also should be borne in mind that social legislation often helps such education wonderfully and beyond all expectations. Social propaganda and social education on the lines generally suggested by the social reformers and orthodox social workers should not be minimised and discouraged, but the dog-in-the-manger policy in social reforms must be once for all abandoned. The do-nothing fellows who want to burke all social legislations on the plea that reforms must come from within should now read the signs of the times that unless useful reforms are welcome in the social structure which has rusted, the waves of all devouring so-called socialistic ideas will sweep away many of their much beloved social customs of long-standing usefulness before it is too late to mend with the speed of an eastern typhoon. Has not the Sarda Act with all its faults helped to raise the marriageable age of a bride? Pernicious customs like the sati and the throwing of babies into the junction of the Ganges and the sea were stopped by legislation. Any how and at any cost this evil custom must be eradicated from the social life. Attacks may be launched from all possible manner and all possible sides. With this end in view and with the fervent hope that my brother legislators will dispassionately help to place this social welfare measure on the State Book at an early date, this Bill is introduced.

No. 444L.C.—27th March 1944.—In pursuance of the provisions of rule 51 of the Bengal Legislative Council Procedure Rules, the following Bill which was introduced in the Bengal Legislative Council on the 17th March 1944, is hereby published for general information together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons annexed thereto.

THE BENGAL LAND-REVENUE SALES AND THE BENGAL TENANCY (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1944.

A BILL

further to amend the Bengal Land-revenue Sales Act, 1859, and the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Bengal Land-revenue Sales Act, 1859, and the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, for the purpose and in the manner hereinafter appearing ;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Land-revenue Sales and the Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Act, 1944.

2. In the fourth exception of section 37 of the Bengal Land-revenue Sales Act, 1859, after the words " leases of lands whereon dwelling houses " the words " of any nature and of any description " shall be inserted and in the 2nd line after the words " manufactories or " for the word " other " the word " any " shall be substituted.

3. In the first line of clause (c) of section 160 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, after the words " dwelling houses " the words " of any nature and of any description " shall be inserted and in the second line for the word " other " occurring before the word " permanent " the word " any " shall be substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In many cases the highest court of the provinces has decided that unless a dwelling house happens to be a pucca structure, the land on which it stands, cannot be protected under section 37 of the Bengal Land-revenue Sales Act, 1859, and section 160 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885. It appears that the original intention of the Legislature was to give protection to dwelling houses by the abovementioned provisions in the said Act. Great hardship and sufferings are caused to persons who lose their dear dwelling houses if they do not happen to be permanent structure. There is a great necessity of an amendment as proposed to give protection to dwelling houses.

THE BENGAL PUBLIC DEMANDS RECOVERY (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1944.

A BILL

further to amend the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913, for the purposes and in the manner hereinafter appearing.

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Public Demands recovery (Amendment) Act, 1944.

2. For rule 9 of the rules under schedule II of the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act, 1913, hereinafter to be called the said rule and the said schedule, the following shall be substituted as rule 9 :—

"9. Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore and after contained, at the same time, the certificate officer shall also serve a copy of the notice by registered post in the name of the certificate debtor and in case their number be more than five in the name of at least first five certificate debtors. The cost of such notice shall be payable by the certificate debtor and if it is not paid in the period fixed for its payment, it shall be realised from the certificate debtor by any process authorised for realising an arrear of public demand."

3. In sub-rule (2) of rule 46 of the said rules in first line after the words "after notice" the words "by registered post" shall be inserted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This simple amendment is proposed to provide for service of notices by registered post on the certificate debtor before their property is sold. Similar amendment has been affected in the Bengal Revenue Sale Act, 1859. Some times it so happens that the certificate debtor does not know about the filing of the certificate or sale of their property through defect in service of notice upon him or for non service of any notice upon him owing to deceitful conduct of some unscrupulous certificate creditors. Hence there is every necessity of proposed amendment

NOTIFICATION.

No. 448L.C.—27th March 1944.—In pursuance of the provisions of rule 51 of the Bengal Legislative Council Procedure Rules, the following Bill which was introduced in the Bengal Legislative Council on the 17th March 1944, is hereby published for general information together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons annexed thereto.

THE BENGAL AMUSEMENT HOUSE SMOKE NUISANCE PREVENTION BILL, 1943.

A

to prevent smoke nuisance in public amusement houses of Bengal.

WHEREAS it is expedient to prevent smoke nuisance in the auditorium of the public amusement houses of Bengal ;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Bengal Amusement House Smoke Nuisance Prevention Act, 1943.

(2) It extends to the whole of Bengal.

(3) It shall come into force on such date as the Provincial Government may by notification in the Calcutta Gazette appoint.

(4) It shall apply in the first instance to Calcutta as defined in clause (11) of section 3 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923, to the suburbs of Calcutta as specified by notification under section 1 of the Calcutta Suburban Police Act, 1866, and to the Municipality of Howrah as constituted under the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932 ; and thereafter it shall apply to such other areas as the Provincial Government may specify by notification.

Definitions.

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context—

(1) "Amusement house" means cinema, theatre or class thereof as the Provincial Government may by notification declare to be a house for public entertainment or amusement.

(2) "Auditorium" means seating accommodation such as orchestra, balcony, stalls, galleries, first, second, third or fourth class seats for audience or persons holding tickets or passes for the purpose of enjoying the performance in the amusement house.

(3) "Notification" means a notification published in the Official Gazette.

Prevention of smoke nuisance in amusement houses.

3. No person attending a theatrical, cinema or any such performance shall smoke biris, tobacco, cigars, cheroots, cigarettes or any other smoking stuff while in the auditorium of an amusement house.

Act where not applicable.

4. Nothing in this Act shall apply to—

(1) Places of private entertainment or amusement, amusement halls attached to residential hotels, clubs, boarding houses, railway clubs, military clubs, docks, wharves, airports and barracks.

(2) Lobbies or reserved places for smoking in a house for public entertainment or amusement.

Penalties.

5. Whoever contravenes the provision of section 3 shall be punishable with fine which for a first offence may extend to Rs. 10 and for a second or any subsequent offence may extend to Rs. 50.

Who may complain.

6. Any person above 18 years of age may lodge a complaint with a Magistrate of competent authority about any violation of this Act.

Procedure.

7. No Court inferior to a Magistrate of the second class shall try an offence punishable under this Act.

Indemnity.

8. No suit, prosecution or legal proceeding whatever shall lie against any person in respect of anything done or intended to be done in good faith under this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Smoke nuisance of any sort or kind should be attacked by all means possible. The smoke nuisance in a cinema or theatre hall due to indiscriminate smoking of biris, cigars, tobacco, cheroots or cigarettes during the hours of performance can be easily controlled. This Act will not only be a salutary measure of first class importance, but it will be something like preventing cruelty to Indian ladies and children who are not used to smoking by relieving their untold distress and discomfort while attending a performance in a suffocating and nauseating smoke-filled auditorium.

It will not inconvenience the smoking public in the least, as they have got lobbies and verandahs attached to the auditorium where they can satisfy their thirst for smoking during the interval between two halves of each and every performance—one half covering not more than an hour or so—or as often as they like.

This Bill is a very short one and, if enacted, it will bring on beneficial results—firstly, preventing aggravation of "Calcutta throats" and various chest ailments and, secondly, making the amusement house (now a place of distress and torture for many) a really cheerful and enjoyable place worth its name where one would long to stay a bit longer.

BENGAL LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 632L.C.—21st April, 1944.—The following report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Diseases of Animals Bill, 1944, by the Hon'ble Khan Bahadur Saiyed Muazzamuddin Hosain, M.L.C., with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by the Committee, is hereby published for general information.

Secy. to the Bengal Legis. Council.

REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE ON THE BENGAL DISEASES OF ANIMALS BILL, 1944

(as introduced in the Bengal Legislative Council by the Hon'ble Khan Bahadur Saiyed Muazzamuddin Hosain, M.L.C.).

We, the members of the Select Committee to which the Bengal Diseases of Animals Bill, 1944, was referred by a motion carried in the Council on the 23rd March, 1944, have the honour to submit this our Final Report with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by us. Matters recommended by us to be omitted have been printed in italics and enclosed in square brackets, and all new matters recommended by us to be inserted have been underlined.

2. The Committee met for the first time on the 3rd April, 1944, and concluded their sitting on the 4th April, 1944.

3. The Bill has not been altered by our recommendation to an extent requiring republication.

4. The Bill was published before introduction in the Calcutta Gazette of the 27th January, 1944, under rule 48 of the Bengal Legislative Council Procedure Rules.

5. The changes made by us are detailed below :—

Clause 2.—Sub-clause (1).—We have included "bullocks" and "dogs" in the definition of animals in order to bring these animals under the purview of the Bill.

Sub-clause (2).—We have excluded glanders and farcy as these diseases are covered by the Glanders and Farcy Act, 1899.

We have also excluded the disease called "surra" from the purview of the Bill as this is a disease of the horses which have been excluded from the present Bill.

Sub-clause (6).—We consider it desirable that the officers of the Bengal Civil Veterinary Department who may be authorised by the Government to carry on the duties of the Veterinary Assistants under this Act should in the opinion of the Provincial Government possess suitable qualifications in veterinary medicine and we have re-drafted this sub-clause accordingly.

Clause 3.—Sub-clause (1).—We consider it desirable that a Veterinary Practitioner should report the fact of an animal being infective not only when he comes to know of it in course of his veterinary practice but also when he has reasons to believe so otherwise and this sub-clause has been re-drafted accordingly. We have also made certain drafting changes.

We further think it desirable to provide in this sub-clause that any person other than the Veterinary Practitioner referred to above may also report the fact of an animal being infective where he has reasons to believe so.

Sub-clause (4).—We think it necessary that a copy of the report received by the Veterinary Assistant under this sub-clause should be forwarded by him to the Subdivisional Magistrate of the area concerned.

Clause 4.—We have made slight drafting change.

Clause 6.—Sub-clause (1).—We have re-drafted this sub-clause to make it more explicit.

Sub-clause (2).—We consider it desirable that the carriage of any animal or thing referred to in sub-clause (1) through an infected area should also be allowed in cases where such animals and things are carried by any mechanically propelled vessel approved by the Government and the sub-clause has been amended accordingly.

Clause 7.—Sub-clause (1).—We have made slight drafting change.

Sub-clause (2).—We have omitted the provision of branding an animal as we think such a provision undesirable.

Clause 8.—Sub-clause (1).—We have made drafting changes and have also provided for the seizure of animals in those cases where the order under sub-clause (1) to the persons concerned are not complied with within a reasonable time.

Sub-clause (2).—We think it proper to provide that the agent of the owner of the animal seized under the proviso to sub-clause (1) may also apply for the return of such an animal.

We think it proper that the cost of isolation, segregation and treatment of the animal seized under the proviso to sub-clause (1) of clause 8, should be borne by the Government. The sub-clause has been amended accordingly.

Clauses 11, 14-16.—We have made some necessary drafting changes.

Clause 19.—We think it desirable that the arrests of persons under this clause should be made by the Police Officer on the request in writing of a Veterinary Assistant and the clause has been amended accordingly.

Clause 24.—Sub-clause (1).—We think it desirable that the rules should be made by the Government under this clause subject to the condition of previous publication and we have amended this sub-clause accordingly.

Sub-clause (2) (c).—We have made certain drafting changes.

New paragraph (cc).—We have added this new paragraph for the determination of the manner of marking animals under sub-clause (2) of clause 7 of the Bill. This is consequential to the change made in sub-clause (2) in clause 7.

Sub-clause (2) (e).—We have made slight drafting changes consequential to the change in sub-clause 8(2).

(3) Mr. Sultanuddin Ahmed,
(4) Mr. Khorshed Alam Chowdhury, and

Minute of Dissent by Mr. Lalit Chandra Das, M.L.C.

The provisions of the Glanders and Farcy Act, 1899, can be extended to apply to horses, camels, asses and mules in Bengal by a notification in the official Gazette. So, horses, camels, asses and mules were not brought within the purview of this Bill—The Bengal Diseases of Animals Bill, 1944. Vide Statement of Objects and Reasons of this Bill.

2. Section 20 of the abovementioned Act gives protection to persons empowered to act under it when their acts are done in good faith. Section 23 of this Bill follows that section and gives protection similarly.

3. The Glanders and Farcy Act, 1899, while giving protection to officers for acts done in good faith lays down in clear and emphatic terms by section 12 of that Act the liability to punishment of officers authorized to act under it when their acts are done unnecessarily and vexatiously. Curiously enough there is no such provision in this Bill although care was taken to enact section 23 which indemnifies officers for anything which is done in good faith. A provision similar to section 12 of the Glanders and Farcy Act, 1899, ought to find a place in this Bill or section 23 of this Bill should be omitted altogether.

4. Most villages in Bengal are often full of party strife and individual animosities. The provisions of this Bill may be used to satisfy a private or party grudge. At the same time, Veterinary Officers may also take advantage of this Bill when passed into Act and use it as an engine of oppression and as a means of unlawful gain. I suggest therefore, following the lines in section 12 of the Glanders and Farcy Act, 1899, that "whoever being a Veterinary Assistant or Practitioner or any officer of the Bengal Civil Veterinary Department duly authorized by the Provincial Government to carry on the duties of the Veterinary Assistant under this Act vexatiously and unnecessarily enters or searches any field, building, house or other place or seizes or detains any animals on the pretence that it is diseased or orders destruction of it; unnecessarily and vexatiously causes any other loss, injury, detriment or inconvenience or unnecessarily and vexatiously causes the carcass of any such animal to be exhumed shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months or with fine which may extend to Rs. 500 or with both:

Provided no prosecution shall be instituted after expiry of three months from the date on which the offence has been committed."

5. I am of opinion that section 19 of the Bill should be omitted. No power should be given to any Police Officer to arrest without warrant or without summons issued from any court.

6. Section 22 of the Bill is not only unnecessary but positively mischievous. No such bar of claim to compensation should be expressly laid down. Its retention would encourage evil acts under cover of good faith.

7. In sub-clause (2) of clause 6 of the Bill, so far as I remember, after the words "by rail" the words "or by steamer or any other mechanically propelled vessel approved by the Government" were inserted by the Select Committee. The words underlined should be there in the Bill.

Minute of dissent by Mr. Shrish Chandra Chakraverti, M.L.C.

I support Mr. Lalit Chandra Das's Note of Dissent and subject to same I have signed the Report of the Select Committee.

[Note.—All matters omitted by the Select Committee have been printed in italics and enclosed in square brackets, and all new matters inserted have been underlined.]

The Bengal Diseases of Animals Bill, 1944.

(Clauses 4—7.)

(1) If after the examination and inquiry referred to in sub-section (2) or sub-section (3) the Veterinary Assistant is of the opinion that the animal is infective, he shall report the matter in the manner prescribed to the Provincial Government or to such officer of the Bengal Civil Veterinary Department as the Provincial Government may appoint in this behalf and the Veterinary Assistant shall also take such further action under the provisions of this Act as may be necessary or expedient and at the same time shall send a copy of such report to the Subdivisional Magistrate.

Duty to segregate infective animals.

4. Every owner or person in charge or having control of an animal who has reason to believe that such animal is infective shall as far as may be possible in the circumstances segregate such animal in a place apart from all other animals which are not infective and shall take all possible steps to prevent any animal which is not infective from coming into contact with or approaching near to such animal

5. (1) The Provincial Government or such officer as it may authorise in this behalf may by notification published in the manner prescribed declare any area in which any contagious disease has broken out, or any area within which in the opinion of the Provincial Government, or such officer, there is a danger of the spread of any such disease, to be an infected area.

(2) Every notification under sub-section (1) shall specify the limits of the area which is declared to be an infected area and shall also specify the contagious disease in respect of which the area is declared to be an infected area.

Prohibition of movement of animals, etc., into or out of infected areas.

6. (1) Save in accordance with the conditions of a licence granted by a Veterinary Assistant no person shall remove any animal, alive or dead or any product of any animal (including its excreta) or any part of any animal or any fodder, bedding, harness or other thing used in connection with an animal, and no person owning or having charge of any animal shall allow such animal to proceed from any place within an infected area to any place outside such area or from any place outside an infected area to any place within such area.

6. (1) Save in accordance with the conditions of a licence granted by Veterinary Assistant

The Bengal Diseases of Animals Bill, 1944.

(Clauses 8—12.)

Compulsory segregation and treatment of animals in infected areas.

(4) Notwithstanding anything in sub-sections (1), (2) and (3) if the Veterinary Assistant, after due examination of any animal, certifies in writing that such animal is affected with any of such contagious diseases as may be prescribed in this behalf, he may destroy the animal or deal with it in such other manner as may be prescribed.

(i) the tests to which an animal may be subjected under section 11 ;

(k) the manner in which an animal may be buried under sub-section (1) of section 13 ;

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The high mortality among cattle in Bengal due to epidemic diseases is well known, but there is at present no statute in this province to control them. Action taken on a voluntary basis cannot be effective, as restriction on the movement of diseased cattle from one place to another, their segregation, and mass inoculation of healthy stock in affected areas are among the measures which must be taken to bring about a speedy control of the epidemic diseases. This Bill has accordingly been prepared vesting Government with powers to undertake the necessary control measures.

2. The Glanders and Farcy Act, 1899, already in force in this province applies to horses, camels, asses and mules. Under section 2(1) of that Act, its provisions can be extended to apply to these animals affected with any dangerous epidemic disease by a notification issued by the Provincial Government in the Official Gazette. It is not, therefore, considered necessary to extend the provisions of the present Bill to horses, camels, asses and mules.

THE INDIAN FISHERIES (BENGAL AMENDMENT) BILL, 1944.

A
BILL

to amend the Indian Fisheries Act, 1897.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Indian Fisheries Act, 1897, in its application to the Province of Bengal in the manners and for the purposes hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Fisheries (Bengal Amendment) Act, 1944.

(2) It extends to the whole Province of Bengal.

2. In sub-section (3) of section 6 of the Indian Fisheries Act, 1897 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act)—

(i) after the words "prohibit or regulate" the words "either permanently or temporarily for a time or for specified seasons only" shall be inserted, and

(ii) for clause (c) the following clause shall be substituted, namely:—

"(c) the dimensions, form and kind of the contrivances in catching or for taking fish generally or any prescribed or specified kind of fish and the modes of using such contrivances"

3. For sub-section (4) of section 6 of the said Act, the following sub-section shall be substituted, namely:—

"(4) Such rules may also prohibit all fishing or may prohibit killing any fish of any prescribed species or of any prescribed size or weight in any specified territorial waters except under a lease or license granted by the Provincial Government and in accordance with such conditions as may be specified in such lease or license:

Provided that no such rule shall be made under this sub-section to prohibit fishery in territorial waters, unless such rule or rules prohibiting fishery in territorial waters are previously approved by both the Chambers of the Bengal Legislature by a resolution and then issued."

4. After section 7 of the said Act, the following section shall be added, namely:—

"8. All rents, fees and other money payable to Provincial Government on account of fishery leases and licenses granted by them may be recovered in like manner as if they were arrears of land revenue".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The proposed amendments are called for the regulation of fishery in Bengal and for prohibiting fishing of any and every species of fish. Some kind of very useful fish such as hilsha fish is about to be extinct owing to indiscriminate killing of fries of the said fish hence there is the necessity of the proposed amendment.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The main object of this Bill is to check wrongful and indiscriminate dismissal of persons employed in mercantile firms and to provide benefits for mercantile employees and non-manual workers. They do not enjoy the rights and privileges conferred on manual workers, by numerous labour legislations enacted in India during the last two or three decades. Mercantile employees and non-manual workers whose numerical strength is estimated to exceed 100,000, have to maintain by custom or tradition, decent standard of living and to incur somewhat heavy expenses for education of children, for medical treatment, marriage and other social and religious functions and are unable to effect any savings after meeting those recurring expenses out of their inadequate salaries or make provisions for old age. Employees attached to a few commercial houses do enjoy some of the benefits proposed in this Bill. But a vast majority of wealthy firms who are members of well-known Chambers of Commerce, do not however grant any monetary concession to their employees in old age or on retirement in recognition of faithful exertions.

Provided that in ordering forfeiture under this section, the Court shall give the owner of the goods an option to pay in lieu of forfeiture such fine as the Court thinks fit.

(b) if the prosecution was in respect of a sale or an offer to sell or a disposal otherwise than by sale, the buyer under any sale of similar articles effected at the same or a higher price in the course of that business in contravention of the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 6 before the date of the conviction,

may at his option—

(i) either treat the sale as void, and recover from the seller, as money received by him for the use of the buyer, any amount paid by the buyer as consideration therefor, or

(ii) affirm the sale but recover as aforesaid to the extent of any loss sustained by him by reason of the contravention, regard being had to any consideration received or to be received by him for a resale of the articles:

Provided that the buyer shall not be entitled to exercise the right conferred by clause (i) if any rights acquired by a third-party would be prejudiced thereby, or after the lapse of an unreasonable time from the date of the sale, or unless he tenders the articles to the seller in substantially the same state as that in which they were when the property passed to the buyer.

(2) Any sum recoverable under this section shall be recoverable with interest thereon at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum from the date when it was paid.

"14A. Summary trials.—Notwithstanding anything contained in section 260 in Chapter XXII of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (V of 1898), a Magistrate empowered to act under that section may try any offence punishable under this Ordinance in a summary way under the provisions of that Chapter, unless the District Magistrate directs that the case should not be so tried.

14B. Special rules of evidence.—(1) In any prosecution for a contravention of the provisions of section 5 the burden of proving that the quantity of an article in the possession of an accused person was not in excess of the limits specified in that section shall lie on the accused person.

(3) For the purposes of section 6 a certificate signed by or under authority from the Controller General as to the landed cost of any article shall be conclusive evidence of that landed cost.

14C. Offences by corporations.—If the person contravening any provision of this Ordinance is a company or other body corporate every director, manager, secretary or other officer or agent thereof shall, unless he proves that the contravention took place without his knowledge or that he exercised all due diligence to prevent such contravention, be deemed to be guilty of such contravention."

10. Addition of new section 18 to Ordinance XXXV of 1943.—After section 17 of the said Ordinance, the following section shall be added, namely:—

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Department.

The following Act of the Indian Legislature received the assent of the Governor General on the 12th April, 1944, and is hereby promulgated for general information:—

ACT No. XI OF 1944.

An Act further to amend the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922 (XI of 1922), for the purposes hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Indian Income-tax (Amendment) Act, 1944.

2. Amendment of section 7, Act XI of 1922.—In sub-section (1) of section 7 of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922 (XI of 1922) (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), in Explanation 2, the words "at or in connection with the termination of his employment, whether or not the employment is then terminated or to be terminated," shall be omitted.

3. Amendment of section 14, Act XI of 1922.—In sub-section (1) of section 14 of the said Act, after the words "Hindu undivided family" the following words shall be added, namely:—

"where such sum has been paid out of the income of the family".

4. Amendment of section 15, Act XI of 1922.—After sub-section (2) of section 15 of the said Act, the following sub-section shall be inserted, namely:—

"(2A) Nothing in sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) shall apply to so much of any premium or other payment made on a policy other than a contract for a deferred annuity as is in excess of ten per cent. of the actual capital sum assured; and in calculating any such capital sum no account shall be taken of the value of any premiums agreed to be returned or of any benefit by way of bonus or otherwise which is to be or may be received either before or after death either by the person paying the premium or by any other person and which is not the sum actually assured."

5. Insertion of new section 18A in Act XI of 1922.—After section 18 of the said Act, the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

"18A. Advance payment of tax.—(1)(a) In the case of income in respect of which provision is not made under section 18 for deduction of income-tax at the time of payment, the Income-tax Officer may, on or after the 1st day of April in any financial year, by order in writing, require an assessee to pay quarterly to the credit of the Central Government on the 15th day of June, 15th day of September, 15th day of December and 15th day of March in that year, respectively, an amount equal to one-quarter of the income-tax and super-tax payable on so much of such income as is included in his total income of the latest previous year in respect of which he has been assessed, if that total income exceeded six thousand rupees. Such income-tax and super-tax shall be calculated at the rates in force for the financial year in which he is required to pay the tax, and shall bear to the total amount of income-tax and super-tax so calculated on the said total income the same proportion as the amount of such inclusions bears to his total income or, in cases where under the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 17 both income-tax and super-tax or super-tax are chargeable with reference to the total world income, shall bear to the total amount of income-tax and super-tax which would have been payable on his total world income of the said previous year had it been his total income the same proportion as the amount of such inclusions bears to his total world income:

Provided that, where the previous year of the assessee in respect of any source of income ends after the 31st day of December and before the 30th day of April, the order in writing issued by the Income-tax Officer requiring the payment of income-tax and super-tax on that source of income shall substitute for the four quarterly payments hereinbefore specified, three payments of equal amount to be made on the 15th day of September, the 15th day of December and the 15th day of March, respectively:

Provided further that, if the assessee is a partner of a registered firm and an assessment of the firm has been completed for a previous year later than that for which the assessee's last assessment has been completed, his share in the profits of the firm shall, for the purposes of this sub-section, be included in his total income on the basis of the latest assessment of the firm:

Provided further that, if after the making of an order by the Income-tax Officer and before the 15th day of February of the financial year an assessment of the assessee or of the registered firm of which he is a partner is completed in respect of a previous year later than that referred to in the order of the Income-tax Officer, the Income-tax Officer may make an amended order requiring the assessee to pay in one instalment on the specified date, or in equal instalments on the specified dates if more than one, falling after the date of the amended order, the tax computed on the revised basis as reduced by the amount, if any, paid in accordance with the original order; but if the amount already paid exceeds the tax determined on the revised basis, the excess shall be refunded.

(b) If the notice of demand issued under section 29 in pursuance of the order under clause (a) of this sub-section is served after any of the dates on which the instalments specified therein are payable, the tax shall be payable in equal instalments on each of such of those dates as fall after the date of the service of the notice of demand, or in one sum on the 15th day of March if the notice is served after the 15th day of December.

(2) If any assessee who is required to pay tax by an order under sub-section (1) estimates at any time before the last instalment is due that the part of his income to which that sub-section applies for the period which would be the previous year for an assessment for the year next following is less than the income on which he is required to pay tax and accordingly wishes to pay an amount less than the amount which he is so required to pay, he may send to the Income-tax Officer an estimate of the tax payable by him calculated in the manner laid down in sub-section (1) on that part of his income for such period, and shall pay such amount as accords with his estimate in equal instalments on such of the dates specified in sub-section (1)(a) as have not expired or in one sum if only the last of such dates has not expired:

Provided that the assessee may send a revised estimate of the tax payable by him before any one of the dates specified in sub-section (1)(a) and adjust any excess or deficiency in respect of any instalment already paid in a subsequent instalment or in subsequent instalments.

(3) Any person who has not hitherto been assessed shall, before the 15th day of March in each financial year, if his total income of the period which would be the previous year for an assessment for the financial year next following is likely to exceed six thousand rupees, send to the Income-tax Officer an estimate of the tax payable by him on that part of his income to which the provisions of section 18 do not apply of the said previous year calculated in the manner laid down in sub-section (1), and shall pay the amount, on such of the dates specified in that sub-section as have not expired, by instalments which may be revised according to the proviso to sub-section (2).

(4) Where part of the income to which sub-section (1), (2) or (3) applies consists of any income of the nature of commission which is receivable periodically and is not received or adjusted by the payer in the assessee's account before any of the quarterly instalments of tax become due, he may defer payment of tax on that part of his income to the date on which such income would be normally received or adjusted and if he does so he shall communicate to the Income-tax Officer the date to which such payment is deferred:

Provided that, if the tax of which the payment is deferred is not paid within fifteen days of the date on which such income or part thereof is received or adjusted by the payer in the assessee's account, the tax shall be payable with six per cent. simple interest per annum from the date of such receipt or adjustment to the date of payment of the tax.

(5) The Central Government shall pay on any amount paid under this section simple interest at two per cent. per annum from the date of payment to the date of the assessment (hereinafter called the 'regular assessment') made under section 23 of the income, profits and gains of the previous year for an assessment for the year next following the year in which the amount was payable:

Provided that on any portion of such amount which is refunded under the foregoing provisions of this section interest shall be payable only up to the date on which the refund was made.

(6) Where in any year an assessee has paid tax under sub-section (2) or sub-section (3) on the basis of his own estimate, and the tax so paid is less than eighty per cent. of the tax determined on the basis of the regular assessment, so far as such tax relates to income to which the provisions of section 18 do not apply and so far as it is not due to variations in the rates of tax made by the Finance Act enacted for the year for which the regular assessment is made, simple interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum from the 1st day of January in the financial year in which the tax was paid up to the date of the said regular assessment shall be payable by the assessee upon the amount by which the tax so paid falls short of the said eighty per cent.:

Provided that, where, as a result of an appeal under section 31 or section 33 or of a revision under section 33A or of a reference to the High Court under section 66, the amount on which interest was payable under this sub-section has been reduced the interest shall be reduced accordingly and the excess interest paid, if any, shall be refunded together with the amount of income-tax that is refundable:

Provided further that, where a business, profession or vocation is newly set up and is assessable on the income, profits and gains of its first previous year in the financial year following that in which it is set up, the interest payable shall be computed from the 1st day of April of the said financial year.

(7) Where, on making the regular assessment, the Income-tax Officer finds that any assessee has—

(a) under sub-section (2) or sub-section (3) underestimated the tax payable by him and thereby reduced the amount payable in any of the first three instalments, or

(b) under sub-section (4) wrongly deferred the payment of tax on a part of his income,

he may direct that the assessee shall pay simple interest at six per cent. per annum, in the case referred to in clause (a) for the period during which the payment was deficient on the difference between the amount paid in each such instalment and the amount which should have been paid having regard to the aggregate tax actually paid under this section during the year, and in the case referred to in clause (b) for the period during which the payment of tax was wrongly deferred on the amount of which the payment was so deferred:

Provided that for the purposes of this sub-section any instalment due before the expiry of six months from the commencement of the previous year in respect of which it is to be paid shall be deemed to have become due fifteen days after the expiry of the said six months.

(8) Where, on making the regular assessment, the Income-tax Officer finds that no payment of tax has been made in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this section, interest calculated in the manner laid down in sub-section (6) shall be added to the tax as determined on the basis of the regular assessment.

(9) If the Income-tax Officer, in the course of any proceedings in connection with the regular assessment, is satisfied that any assessee—

(b) has without reasonable cause failed to comply with the provisions of sub-section (3),

the assessee shall be deemed, in the case referred to in clause (a), to have deliberately furnished inaccurate particulars of his income, and in the case referred to in clause (b), to have failed to furnish the return of his total income; and the provisions of section 28, so far as may be, shall apply accordingly:

Provided that the amount of penalty leviable shall, in the case referred to in clause (a), be a sum not exceeding one-and-a-half times the amount by which the tax actually paid during the year under the provisions of this section falls short of the tax that should have been paid by the assessee under sub-section (1) or eighty per cent. of the tax determined on the basis of the regular assessment as modified in the manner provided in sub-section (6), whichever is the less, and, in the case referred to in clause (b) one-and-a-half times the said eighty per cent.

(10)(a) If any assessee does not pay on the specified dates any instalment of tax that he is required to pay under sub-section (1) and does not, before the date on which any such instalment as is not paid becomes due, send under sub-section (2) an estimate or a revised estimate of the tax payable by him, he shall be deemed to be an assessee in default in respect of such instalment or instalments.

(b) If any assessee has sent under sub-section (2) or sub-section (3) an estimate or a revised estimate of the tax payable by him, but does not pay any instalment in accordance therewith on the date or dates specified in sub-section (1), he shall be deemed to be an assessee in default in respect of such instalment or instalments:

Provided that the assessee shall not, under clause (a) or (b), be deemed to be in default in respect of any amount of which the payment is deferred under sub-section (4) until after the date communicated by him to the Income-tax Officer under that sub-section.

(11) Any sum other than a penalty or interest paid by or recovered from an assessee in pursuance of the provisions of this section shall be treated as a payment of tax in respect of the income of the period which would be the previous year for an assessment for the financial year next following the year in which it was payable, and credit therefor shall be given to the assessee in the regular assessment."

6. Amendment of section 24, Act XI of 1922. In section 24 of the said Act,—

(a) in sub-section (1), in the existing proviso, after the word "Provided" the word "further" shall be inserted, and before that proviso the following proviso shall be inserted, namely:

"Provided that, where the loss sustained is a loss of profits or gains which would but for the loss have accrued or arisen within an Indian State and would, under the provisions of clause (c) of sub-section (2) of section 14, have been exempt from tax, such loss shall not be set off except against profits or gains accruing or arising within an Indian State and exempt from tax under the said provisions:";

Ad interim attachment.—(1) Upon receipt of an application under section 3, the District Judge shall, unless for reasons to be recorded in writing he is of opinion that there exist no prima facie grounds for believing that the person in respect of whom the application is made has committed any scheduled offence or that he has procured thereby any money or other property, pass without delay an ad interim order attaching the money or other property alleged to have been so procured, or if it transpires that such money or other property is not available for attachment, such other property of the said person of equivalent value as the District Judge may think fit:

Provided that the District Judge may if he thinks fit before passing such order, and shall before refusing to pass such order, examine the person or persons making the affidavits accompanying the application.

(2) At the same time as he passes an order under sub-section (1), the District Judge shall issue to the person whose money or other property is being attached a notice, accompanied by copies of the order, the application and affidavits and of the evidence, if any, recorded, calling upon him to show cause on a date to be specified in the notice why the order of attachment should not be made absolute.

(3) The District Judge shall also issue notices, accompanied by copies of the documents accompanying the notice under sub-section (2), to all persons represented to him as having, or being likely to claim, any interest or title in the property of the person to whom notice is issued under the said sub-section, calling upon each such person to appear on the same date as that specified in the notice under the said sub-section and make objection if he so desires to the attachment of the property or any portion thereof on the ground that he has an interest in such property or portion thereof.

(4) Any other person claiming an interest in the attached property or any portion thereof may, notwithstanding that no notice has been served upon him under this section, make an objection as aforesaid to the District Judge at any time before an order is passed under sub-section (1) or sub-section (3), as the case may be, of section 5.

5. Investigation of objections to attachment.—(1) If no cause is shown and no objections are made under section 4 on or before the specified date, the District Judge shall forthwith pass an order making the ad interim order of attachment absolute.

(2) If cause is shown or any objections are made as aforesaid, the District Judge shall proceed to investigate the same, and in so doing, as regards the examination of the parties and in all other respects he shall, subject to the provisions of this Ordinance, follow the procedure and exercise all the powers of a Court in hearing a suit under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (Act V of 1908); and any person making an objection under section 4 shall be required to adduce evidence to show that at the date of the attachment he had some interest in the property attached.

(3) After investigation under sub-section (2), the District Judge shall pass an order either making the ad interim order of attachment absolute or varying it by releasing a portion of the property from attachment or withdrawing the order:

Provided that the District Judge shall not—

(a) release from attachment any interest which he is satisfied that the person believed to have committed a scheduled offence has in the property, unless he is also satisfied that there will remain under attachment an amount of the said person's property of value not less than that of the property believed to have been procured by the said person by means of the offence, or

6. Attachment of property of mala fide transferees.—(1) Where the assets available for attachment of a person believed to have committed a scheduled offence are found to be less than the amount or value which he is believed to have procured by means of such offence, and where the District Judge is satisfied, by affidavit or otherwise, that there is reasonable cause for believing that the said person has, after the date on which the offence is alleged to have been committed, transferred (whether after the commencement of this Ordinance or not) any of his property otherwise than in good faith and for consideration, the District Judge may by notice require any transferee of such property (whether or not he received the property directly from the said person) to appear on a date to be specified in the notice and show cause why so much of the transferee's property as is equivalent to the proper value of the property transferred should not be attached.

(2) Where the said transferee does not appear and show cause on the specified date, or where after investigation in the manner provided in sub-section (2) of section 5, the District Judge is satisfied that the transfer of the property to the said transferee was not in good faith and for consideration, the District Judge shall order the attachment of so much of the said transferee's property as is in the opinion of the District Judge equivalent to the proper value of the property transferred.

7. Execution of orders of attachment.—An order of attachment of property under this Ordinance shall be carried into effect so far as may be practicable in the manner provided in the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (Act V of 1908), for the attachment of property in execution of a decree.

8. Security in lieu of attachment.—Any person whose property has been or is about to be attached under this Ordinance may at any time apply to the District Judge to be permitted to give security in lieu of such attachment, and where the security offered and given is in the opinion of the District Judge satisfactory and sufficient, he may withdraw or, as the case may be, refrain from passing, the order of attachment.

9. Administration of attached property.—(1) The District Judge may, on the application of any person interested in any property attached under this Ordinance and after giving the agent of the Provincial Government an opportunity of being heard, make such orders as the District Judge considers just and reasonable for—

(a) providing from such of the attached property as the applicant claims an interest in, such sums as may be reasonably necessary for the maintenance of the applicant and of his family, and for the expenses connected with the defence of the applicant where criminal proceedings have been instituted against him in any Court for a scheduled offence;

(b) safeguarding so far as may be practicable the interests of any business affected by the attachment, and in particular, the interests of any partners in such business.

(2) Where it appears to the District Judge to be just and convenient, he may by order appoint a receiver to manage any property attached under this Ordinance in accordance with such instructions as the District Judge may from time to time think fit to give; and where a receiver is so appointed, the provisions of rules 2, 3, 4 and 5 of Order XL of the First Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (Act V of 1908), shall be applicable.

10. Duration of attachment.—An order of attachment of property under this Ordinance shall, unless it is withdrawn earlier in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance, continue in force—

(a) where no Court has taken cognizance of the alleged scheduled offence at the time when the order is applied for, for three months from the date of the order under sub-section (1) of section 4 or sub-section (2) of section 6, as the case may be, unless cognizance of such offence is in the meantime so taken, or unless the District Judge on application by the agent of the Provincial Government thinks it proper and just that the period should be extended and passes an order accordingly; or

(b) where a Court has taken cognizance of the alleged scheduled offence whether before or after the time when the order was applied for until orders are passed by the District Judge in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance after the termination of the criminal proceedings.

11. Appeals.—(1) The Provincial Government or any person who has shown cause under section 4 or section 6 or has made an objection under section 4 or has made an application under section 8 or section 9, if aggrieved by any order of the District Judge under any of the foregoing provisions of this Ordinance, may appeal to the High Court within thirty days from the date on which the order complained against was passed.

(2) Upon any appeal under this section the High Court may, after giving such parties as it thinks proper an opportunity of being heard, pass such orders as it thinks fit.

(3) Until an appeal under this section is finally disposed of by the High Court, no Court shall, otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of section 8 or section 13, order the withdrawal or suspension of any order of attachment to which the appeal relates.

12. Criminal Courts to evaluate property procured by scheduled offences.—(1) Where before judgment is pronounced in any criminal trial for a scheduled offence it is represented to the Court that an order of attachment of property has been passed under this Ordinance in connection with such offence, the Court shall, if it is convicting the accused, record a finding as to the amount of money or value of other property procured by the accused by means of the offence.

(2) In any appeal or revisional proceedings against such conviction, the appellate or revisional Court shall, unless it sets aside the conviction, either confirm such finding or modify it in such manner as it thinks proper.

(3) In any appeal or revisional proceedings against an order of acquittal passed in a trial such as is referred to in sub-section (1), the appellate or revisional Court, if it convicts the accused, shall record a finding such as is referred to in that sub-section.

13. Disposal of attached property upon termination of criminal proceedings.—(1) Upon the termination of any criminal proceedings for any scheduled offence in respect of which any order of attachment of property has been made under this Ordinance or security given in lieu thereof, the agent of the Provincial Government shall without delay inform the District Judge, and shall where criminal proceedings have been taken in any Court, furnish the District Judge with a copy of the judgment or order of the trying Court and with copies of the judgments or orders, if any, of the appellate or revisional Courts thereon.

(2) Where it is reported to the District Judge under sub-section (1) that cognizance of the alleged scheduled offence has not been taken or where the final judgment or order of the criminal Courts is one of acquittal, the District Judge shall forthwith withdraw any orders of attachment of property made in connection with the offence, or where security has been given in lieu of such attachment, order such security to be returned.

(3) Where the final judgment or order of the criminal Courts is one of conviction, the District Judge shall order that from the property of the convicted person attached under this Ordinance or out of the security given in lieu of such attachment, there shall be forfeited to His Majesty such amount or value as is found in the final judgment or order of the criminal Courts in pursuance of section 12 to have been procured by the convicted person by means of the offence, together with the costs of attachment as determined by the District Judge; and where the final judgment or order of the criminal Courts has imposed or upheld a sentence of fine on the said person (whether alone or in conjunction with any other punishment), the District Judge may order, without prejudice to any other mode of recovery, that the said fine shall be recovered from the residue of the said attached property or of the security given in lieu of attachment.

(4) Where the amounts ordered to be forfeited or recovered under sub-section (3) exceed the value of the property of the convicted person attached, and where the property of any transferee of the convicted person has been attached under section 6, the District Judge shall order that the balance of the amount ordered to be forfeited under sub-section (3) together with the costs of attachment of the transferee's property as determined by the District Judge shall be forfeited to His Majesty from the attached property of the transferee or out of the security given in lieu of such attachment; and the District Judge may order, without prejudice to any other mode of recovery, that any fine referred to in sub-section (3) or any portion thereof not recovered under that sub-section shall be recovered from the attached property of the transferee or out of the security given in lieu of such attachment.

(5) If any property remains under attachment in respect of any scheduled offence or any security given in lieu of such attachment remains with the District Judge after his orders under sub-sections (3) and (4) have been carried into effect, the order of attachment in respect of such property remaining shall be forthwith withdrawn, or as the case may be, the remainder of security returned, under the orders of the District Judge.

14. Bar to other proceedings.—Save as provided in section 11 and notwithstanding anything contained in any other law,—

(a) no suit or other legal proceeding shall be maintainable in any Court—

(i) in respect of any property ordered to be forfeited under section 13 or which has been taken in recovery of fine in pursuance of an order under that section, or

(ii) while any other property is attached under this Ordinance, in respect of such other property,—

(b) no Court shall, in any legal proceedings or otherwise, pass any decree or order other than a final decree in a suit by a person not being a person referred to in clause (a), which shall have the effect of nullifying or affecting in any way any subsisting order of attachment of property under this Ordinance, or the right of the District Judge to hold security in lieu of any such order of attachment.

15. Protection of action taken.—No suit, prosecution or other legal proceedings shall lie against any person for anything in good faith done or intended to be done in pursuance of this Ordinance.
